U. S. TROOPS MAKE HEADWAY ON ATTU

ATTU ATTACK SEEN AS START OF U. S. DRIVE

New Blows Against Japanese Throughout Pacific Predicted in Capital.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 15 — The beginning of a barrage of blows against major Japanese positions throughout the Pacific was seen by some strategists here today in the American drive to wipe out enemy forces in the western Aleutians starting with Attu island.

And the belief that the subsequent move will be a mighty strike at southern and central Pacific strongholds of the enemy's ocean empire seemed at least partially borne out by:

1—Recent conferences between Gen. Douglas MacArthur, commander in Australia and the southwestern Pacific area, and Admiral William F. Halsey Jr., commander in the southern Pacific.

2—Emphasis on the Pacific situation by choice of high officials sitting in on the conferences here of President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill.

3—Expressed opinion of qualified authorities that no major Pacific move would have been started unless joint army-navy-air power was set to continue the offensive series all along the line.

While reports of the MacArthur-Halsey meetings were couched in the most general terms, authorities stressed they were held at a time when American positions in both areas had reached the point where joint army-navy-air operations of the most complex sort are required for further offensive actions.

Job for Navy

Secretary of the Navy Knox made it clear yesterday that just such joint action made possible the amphibious attack on Attu last Tuesday. Army troops were put ashore from transports guarded by warships and their success in land fighting on the island itself depended on the navy's ability to keep supplies and reinforcements moving in.

As the Attu battle moved into the fourth day, Knox said "it is going very satisfactorily." From other informed authorities came

SHIP NAMED FOR J. E. SCHMELTZER

Former Marionite Honored at Launching Today.

A Victory ship named after a former Marion man who was plant superintendent of the Marion Steam Shovel Co., for four years and who later became director of construction for the U. S. Maritime Commission was to be launched today in Baltimore, Md.

It was to carry the name of the S. S. "John E. Schmeltzer," in honor of the late Mr. Schmeltzer, whose war duties were cut short by his death Feb. 25 in New York city.

Mr. Schmeltzer was widely known in Marion and last visited here in the fall of 1942 when he presented the Maritime Commission to the Marion Steam Shovel Co. in recognition of outstanding war production work.

At least three Marion residents were on hand for the launching today. They are Mrs. Wilbur Norris, Mrs. J. C. Woods and Mrs. C. S. Hoover, who went to Baltimore for the event at the invitation of Mrs. Schmeltzer, who was to be the ship's sponsor.

Mr. Schmeltzer was a nationally known authority on Maritime transportation and held the highest position obtainable by a layman in the Maritime Commission. The family has four sons, Lieut. J. E. Schmeltzer of the Coast Guard, of Brooklyn, N. Y., and Messrs. Robert E. Schmeltzer of Annapolis academy. Both were present for the launching today.

A luncheon and reception were held at the Belvedere hotel in Baltimore following the ceremony.

NAZIS STRIKE SUDDEN BLOW

Germans Send Strong Units Against City's Defense; Losses Heavy.

By The Associated Press

MOSCOW, May 15—A sharp new German attack on Leningrad, in an assault preceded by a heavy artillery barrage, was reported today by Red Star, official army newspaper, in dispatches from the front.

Following the heavy barrage, German infantry advanced toward the city in what the dispatch described as "chains" of men.

Russian troops met the attack with heavy fire that resulted in heavy losses, but the Germans continued to attack, the newspaper said.

The Germans made seven additional attacks in a single day, attempting to breach Russian lines in the Leningrad area, Red Star said, and breaking through to fortifications at one point. The Russians rushed reinforcements to the area, however, the newspaper said, and the enemy group was exterminated.

General Offensive in Doubt

It was too early to say whether this was the beginning of anything important in the way of a German offensive, but it indicated considerable German power has been massed along the Leningrad front and that the invading army was able to strike hard.

In the Kuban, the Red army continued its intensive artillery bombardment of German-held Novorossisk, but there was little other action.

The furious air war continued up and down the front with the Russians bombing, shelling and machine-gunning railway lines, stations and junctions behind the German lines. Night after night Soviet airmen have been pounding junctions but trains moving up tremendous quantities of supplies for the German soldiers continue to arrive.

Railway junctions, airdromes, fuel and ammunition depots, and truck columns were the targets for Red army bombers in attacks that began Wednesday and continued through Friday, with Warsaw bombed in one foray over Poland and other bombing planes reaching to the Estonian frontier to hit German supply trucks and military planes.

Nazi Railroads Hit

Tass, the Russian news agency, said 300 freight cars, more than 200 trucks loaded with arms and other war supplies, and 72 planes were destroyed by the Soviet raiders, striking at Germany's vital rolling stock.

The Russian losses were listed as 23 planes.

The leading article in Red Star, the Russian army newspaper, said that despite the current ground lull, both sides were preparing intensively for spring and summer operations and that "the hour is nearing when great battles, with big masses of troops participating, will break out again."

AKRON TROLLEY, BUS STRIKE ENDS TODAY

By The Associated Press

AKRON, O., May 15 — Buses rolled over the streets of war-busy Akron today after a two-day strike of CIO transit workers.

Customers of the city buses and the Akron-Barberton street car line, not expectinng such quick resumption of service, were below normal in the morning rush hour and spectators theorized they had made other transportation arrangements.

Share-the-ride clubs had expanded during the walkout and Akron's main airplane and rubber plants reported attendance was normal.

The 350 strikers voted last night to return to work today pending war labor board mediation.

The unionists at a three-hour mass meeting voted to give the regional WLB 15 days to decide on their wage dispute and other demands.

NAZIS WATCH BALKAN ATTACK FROM TURKEY

Ankara Envoy To Britain Returns Home; He's Partisan of Allies.

By The Associated Press

LONDON, May 15 — As Germany watched Turkey for a turn of events that might bring her newly equipped army into the war, the Turkish ambassador to London, Rauf Orbay, was disclosed today to have gone to Ankara for consultations.

The departure of the ambassador came amid frantic efforts of the Germans and Italians to rally their resources against an invasion in Balkan territory adjoining Turkey's sphere of influence.

It followed a notable increase in British-Turkish military collaboration. Foreign Minister Numan Menemencioglu said yesterday Turkey was willing to fight on behalf of her obligations, which include an alliance with Britain.

Partisan of Allies

The Turkish ambassador fought on Germany's side in the last war. He received early naval training at Newport, R. I. He is known today as a passionate partisan of Britain and the United States.

He was stated authoritatively to have gone home for "rest and to renew contacts."

Across Turkey's western border in Bulgaria, seven more "Communists" were reported by the Paris radio to have been arrested in the long police campaign to quell political opposition to the axis war. A German report printed in Stockholm said allied parachutists had been dropped in Bulgaria in an attempt to encourage revolt. (German propaganda frequently plants such stories in Stockholm and this one was seen as an effort to explain away the unrest in Bulgaria, which placed the Balkan kingdom under a virtual state of siege last week.)

Rumanian railways were reported by Tass to have been turned over to Rumanian authorities. Civilian travel was forbidden under a state of emergency decree, this Russian report said.

A number of Italian garrisons in Yugoslavia was reported in a supplement to the Russian communique to have rioted in protest against the failure of officers to send sick and wounded men home. Some Italians were reported joining guerrilla bands which have constantly fought the axis since the fall of Yugoslavia.

The number of Dutchmen executed during the early days of martial law in the Netherlands has risen to 48, the Netherlands government in exile announced, tell of three more executions.

The correct total is known only to the Germans, however, since the Nazis are publishing names of victims only locally and different lists appear in different papers. One newspaper said many persons were killed in riots in Groningen province.

American Planes Strike Heaviest Blow at Nazis

Bombers Attack in Four Areas Including Important German Naval and Sub Base at Kiel.

By The Associated Press

LONDON, May 15—A four-ply sweep by American bombers yesterday in the greatest force they have mustered in the war topped off two days of paralyzing, record-shattering aerial blows at German-occupied Europe from the east, south and west, and some observers here regarded the aerial offensive today as the curtain raiser for the battle for Europe.

British patrols kept the air offensive going last night with intruder flights over northern France. The air ministry said two enemy planes were destroyed and that railway targets and a supply ship were attacked.

In addition to sending out the greatest number of planes in a single day, the American air forces engaged in a round-trip flight of more than 1,000 miles to blast the German naval and submarine base at Kiel. It marked their deepest penetration of Europe.

In closely coordinated supporting attacks, American heavy units bombed the former General Motors plant in Antwerp and a large German airfield and repair station at Courtrai, in Belgium. Medium bombers made successful low level attacks on industrial targets at Velzen, near Haarlem, in the Netherlands.

Figures Compared

The tremendous explosive power dumped from coastal France through Germany to German-occupied western Russia and on Mediterranean bases since Wednesday night can best be pictured by these figures:

When Hitler threw his aerial might at London in an effort to knock out Britain from the war, 7,500 tons of bombs were dropped during 24 raids.

In 48 hours, beginning Wednesday night, the RAF alone dumped almost 5,000 tons of explosives on German communication lines, factories and naval bases.

The weight of explosives dropped by American bombers in their unprecedented raids Friday, and of the Russian attacks Wednesday and Thursday on German rail and concentration centers in western Russia and Warsaw, have not been revealed. Neither have figures been made public on the heavy Thursday raids on axis Mediterranean bases in Sardinia and Sicily, and on Naples, Italy.

The American mass and distance records followed up an RAF record for a single night's operations in which 3,000 tons of bombs were showered Thursday night on Berlin, the Ruhr valley and on Czechoslovakia, almost double the bomb load the RAF had delivered on any previous night. The RAF dropped more than 1,500 tons of blockbusters on Duisburg in the

WAR MOTHERS' BOND WEEK SET

Women's Division of "Buy a Bomber" Campaign Handling Special Appeal.

Next week has been designated as "War Mothers' Week" in Marion county's "buy a bomber" bond campaign.

The women's division of the campaign, headed by Mrs. C. E. Danner, is asking Marion county mothers with sons or daughters in service to buy an extra bond some time during the week. The committee emphasized that any bond bought by a war mother next week will serve the dual purpose of "backing up" a son or daughter at the front and also helping Marion county over the top in its $325,000 bond campaign this month to pay for a four-motor bomber.

Central Point.

The women's division is centering its activities around the Victory House on the courthouse lawn, and bonds sold to war mothers at the Victory House will be credited to the women's division. Also, bonds purchased through the use of an application blank on another page of tonight's Star, if mailed with a check to the war bond headquarters at 116 North State street, will be credited to the women's division.

Bonds purchased directly from banks by war mothers probably will not be credited to the women's division, because there is no machinery set up to handle credit for such sales, but Mrs. Danner said such purchases will be welcome because they all count in the bomber drive and serve their primary purpose of helping finance the war.

Any war mother unable to go to the Victory House and who finds it inconvenient to handle her purchase through the mail may have a representative of the women's division call at her home by telephoning Mrs. Danner at 2427.

How To Use Blank.

Persons making use of the application form in tonight's Star were urged to be sure their money or check in payment for bonds accompanies each order. Checks should be made payable to the Marion County War Bonds Committee. After the application blank has been filled out, it and the check should be mailed to the Marion County War Bonds committee at 116 North State street.

Many War Mothers' Week purchases are expected to come from mothers investing money their sons have sent back from battle-fronts and training camps. Also, the committee is urging mothers to purchase bonds in the name of their sons and daughters in service as a gift for their use in later years.

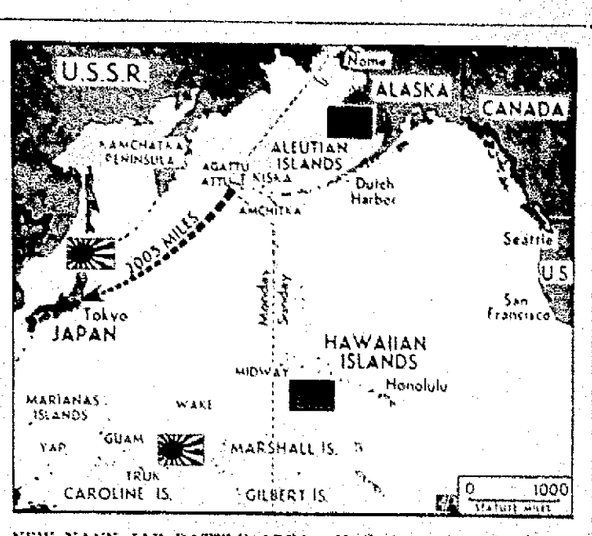
Sugar for Canning Cut To Limit of 15 Pounds

Marion county rationing officials today were instructed to countermand part of an announcement made yesterday about allowances of sugar for canning purposes. Yesterday's announcement fixed the maximum allowance for any individual at 25 pounds; today's lowers it to 15 pounds.

The county rationing board's new instructions follow: "Local boards are hereby notified to grant no more than 15 pounds of sugar for home canning purposes to any home canning applicant for each War Book No. 1 presented, effective at once".



NEW YANK-JAP BATTLE AREA. U. S. forces have landed on Japanese-held Attu island, the Navy has announced, engaging enemy troops. Attu, westernmost of the Aleutians, is 2,003 statute miles from Tokyo. Japanese have been holding Attu and Kiska in the western Aleutians. U. S. occupation of Amchitka was announced only recently.

Depot Calls For 350 Workers as War Pace Quickens

An extraordinary appeal for workers to help with a greatly increased volume of shipments to fighting men overseas was issued today by Lieut. Col. C. B. Shaffer, commanding officer of the Marion Engineer Depot.

He said the depot has just passed through its busiest week since it was opened, and that the steadily growing volume of work will require approximately 350 more laborers, carpenters, machinists, crane operators and others.

A night shift was established this week, but preparations to meet the increased demand for shipments overseas can not be met without additional workers, he said.

Detailed information about the work may be obtained at the U. S. Employment service office at State and Center streets, Col. Shaffer said.

OHIO GUN DISPLAY OPEN TO PUBLIC FOR TWO DAYS

Annual State Association Exhibit At Hotel Harding.

The annual gun display of the Ohio Collectors' association in banquet room of Hotel Harding will be open to the public from 1 p. m. today and all day tomorrow excepting between the hours of 10 and 12 noon, the committee in charge announced this morning. Some 40 collections, each of 100 to 125 guns, will be on display, and there will be no admission charge. The Marion Hobby club is in charge of the display and will be host to the Ohio gun collectors.

Mayor Russell C. Snare will give a welcome address Sunday at 1:30 p. m., and Terry C. Brown of Canton, secretary of the state association, will respond.

MARION PILOT OVER EUROPE

Capt. D. D. Renwick Sees Axis Strongholds Bombed Into "Concentrated Dust."

A participant in the first "all-American" raids from England over occupied-Europe in April, Capt. Donald D. Renwick, flew a P-47 fighter escorting bombing units over Axis strongholds yesterday and saw American bombs turn their targets into "concentrated dust."

Protecting medium and heavy bombers attacking the German shipyards at Kiel and industrial targets at Antwerp and Courtrai in Belgium, Capt. Renwick yesterday was in a front row seat to see the destruction wrought by American attackers.

"Like Ashes"

"As the bombs were dropped I was making a turn," he told an Associated Press war correspondent upon his return to a U. S. bomber station in Britain, "but when I came back again on the target it looked like a mass of concentrated dust just as though someone had dropped a million ashes on one spot."

This is the second time in recent weeks in which Capt. Renwick, son of Mrs. Zula Renwick of 254 South Main street and husband of the former Marion Davis, who is making her home with Capt. Renwick's mother, has been mentioned in Associated Press reports from England, covering bombing missions led by American fliers.

In Speedy Plane

Commenting on the famous P-47 plane while in Marion last Christmas, Capt. Renwick said he personally had flown this type of plane at over 400 miles an hour. According to government news releases announced from time to time, the ship is capable of flying over 425 miles an hour and in high-altitude dive tests the ship has been clocked over 700 miles an hour.

Capt. Renwick was commissioned a second lieutenant in the Army air corps at Victoria, Tex., Dec. 12, 1941. He previously trained at Sikeston, Mo., and Randolph Field. After being commissioned he was stationed on the east coast and since the first of the year has been stationed abroad.

KNOX DECLARES PROGRESS IS SATISFACTORY

Military Secrecy Makes Details of Aleutian Island Battle Meager Today.

By The Associated Press

American troops apparently were making headway in the five-day-old battle of Attu island today, fighting their way over ice-sheathed ridges and snowfields in the new campaign to drive Japanese forces out of the Aleutians.

Details were meager for reasons of military secrecy, but Secretary of the Navy Knox declared the assault was developing "very satisfactorily."

Along with Knox's expression of confidence, informed Washington quarters said the American sea-borne forces must have struck with sufficient power to assure a complete and smashing victory.

Forecast More Blows

Capital sources also forecast a series of lightning blows against Japan's invasion armies throughout the Pacific, coupled with the Aleutians campaign, on the theory that no major action would have been started unless joint Army-Navy-air power was set to continue the offensive all along the line.

"When you seize enemy territory it certainly can be called offensive," Knox told newsmen, when asked whether the attack on Attu was part of a general allied drive in the Pacific.

But he declined to comment on other possible smashes against the enemy in the southwest Pacific, Burma or China.

Knox said Attu's mountainous terrain was tough for fighting, with its difficulties comparable to the jungles of Guadalcanal where it took seven months to oust the Japanese.

Drain on Jap Strength

Military analysts believed Japan must rush heavy reinforcements to Attu, draining warships and troops from other vital zones of the far-flung Pacific battle theater, or face almost inevitable loss of her footholds on the closest approach to American mainland shores.

With the fall of Attu, main supply base for Kiska, the Americans would be in a position to impose a virtual starvation siege on the bigger Japanese garrison at Kiska—estimated at approximately 10,000 troops—which lies 180 miles east of Attu and 70 miles west of the new U. S. base at Amchitka.

Attu, although only 35 miles long, is important strategically as an advanced base for possible bombing attacks on Tokyo, some 2,000 miles away, and as a stepping-stone for invasion of Japan's Kurile islands, 760 miles distant.

ILL MARION MAN CARRIED FROM FIRE

C. M. Lake, 64, bedfast since March 8 because of pneumonia, was carried to safety by a neighbor, Norval S. Osborn, when his home at 372 North State street caught fire at 2 a. m. today.

Firemen from the Central and Mark street stations answered the alarm around 1:50 a. m. and battled the flames for nearly 90 minutes. Fire Chief T. J. McFarland said defective wiring caused the fire which resulted in damage placed at $700.

At 4:01 firemen were called when Mr. and Mrs. Lake discovered the fire again had broken out on the second floor of the residence. This time firemen worked for nearly two hours. Damage on the second alarm was set at $1,000, or $1,700 for the two alarms.

A check by firemen showed that the second fire broke out on the second floor where pipes were placed in a bedding of saw dust.

Mrs. Lake discovered the first fire at 1:50 when she heard shelves and other objects falling on the first floor of the two-story frame dwelling. She said she and her husband believed someone was trying to break into the house but a check disclosed that the dining room was completely enveloped in flames and that part of the second floor was burning steadily.

Mrs. Lake summoned Mr. Osborn. He called firemen and then carried Mr. Lake to his house next door where he spent the rest of the night.

All bedding, personal clothing and furniture in the second story was destroyed by the first fire and two rooms on the first floor were badly damaged. A large section of the roof and part of the siding was badly burned in the second fire.

Death Takes "Bob" Allen Marion's No. 1 in Baseball

Local Player Who Rose To Big Leaguer and Had Career Second in Length To Connie Mack's, Dies in Arkansas.

R. G. "Bob" Allen, Marion's greatest contribution to organized baseball and possessor of a service record in the diamond game second in length only to that of Connie Mack of the Philadelphia Athletics, died last night in Little Rock, Ark., at the age of 75. He had been ill for several months, The Associated Press reported.

Active in baseball for 56 years, first as a player and later as an executive, Mr. Allen started his diamond career in Marion, broke into organized ball in 1887 with Mansfield of the old Ohio league and at the time of his death was president and owner of the Knoxville, Tenn., of the Southern association.

Mr. Allen was the son of the late Elisha Allen and Maryanna Allen, who formerly lived on East Center street, and was the brother of the late T. R. Allen, Herbert Allen and Charles Allen.

He is descended from Eber Baker, founder of Marion. In Cincinnati in 1938 to attend the annual convention of the National Association of Professional Baseball Clubs, Mr. Allen related to Fritz Howell, Ohio sports editor of The Associated Press that his grandparents were the first settlers in Marion and that he still possessed the broad ax which hewed logs for the first home in the town, built by his grandfather on land now occupied by the county courthouse.

Career Reviewed

The files of The Star of the fall of 1919 contained a review of his diamond career up to that time and showed he got his start in the game when he and a friend formed a Marion team to accept a challenge from Mansfield, then of the old Ohio loop.

He pitched so well that Marion not only defeated the pro-nine but he also won for himself a try-out with the Mansfield team where in 1897 he developed into a shortstop. From then on, his is a story of rapid advancement. In 1888 he was purchased by Pittsburgh as a shortstop and played with the steel-city team only a short while before taking over the management of the Davenport, Ia., team in the Western league.

In the next half century he played at Philadelphia, Boston, Detroit, Louisville, Indianapolis, Cincinnati, Little Rock, Nashville and Knoxville.

Second To Connie Mack

Only the venerable Cornelius McGillicuddy, better known as Connie Mack, has seen longer service than Allen. During his major league career he played with Evangelist Billy Sunday, Deacon White and other greats on the 1889 Pittsburgh team, under Harry Wright of the Philadelphia Nationals and on the league championship Boston team of 1897.

Other high points of his long stay in baseball included winning of the American association pennant in 1899 as manager of the Indianapolis team and then he became a club owner for the first

Wake Up, Parents!

A SERMONETTE

By REV. J. A. CARRIKER

Pastor of Forest Lawn Presbyterian Church

WE ARE fresh from the observance of another Mother's day throughout our land. While our mothers are being honored in this way we are reminded that a very large and growing number of teen-aged Americans are being caught in a wave of delinquency. The honor of many American homes is being put to shame by juvenile delinquency. Vandalism, immoralities and the crime of youth have stunned many communities throughout the land. While we are busy winning the war in defense plants and on the fighting fronts we are in grave danger of losing our youth to worse fate on the home front.

Reports from all parts of the country tell of the rising tide of juvenile delinquency and crime. Here are some of the alarming facts: Young casuals and amateurs now lead professional prostitutes as the source of venereal infection in our armed forces at home. Illegitimacy is rising steadily in many of our cities. "Good-time girls of high school age are the army's biggest problem today as the source of venereal disease." A common sight is to see teen-aged kids wandering about our city streets at night looking for "pick-ups," who when asked why they are delinquent say, "Because there is nothing else to do in this town," or "because it is my patriotic duty to comfort the poor boys who are going overseas and may be killed." We have only to read our newspapers to realize the extent also of vandalism and crime committed by this age group.

WHAT is being done to remedy this situation? Adults who do these things are bad enough, but there seems much less excuse for permitting a situation in which teen-aged youth do them. Some communities are resorting to more vigorous policing. Some are trying the curfew. Some are providing greater means for recreation. These moves may all help, but they will not correct the situation because they do not go to the root of the trouble.

The problem will not be solved until parents realize their personal responsibility and carry it out. As long as we have parents delinquent in their guidance and protection of children we will have delinquent youth. While parents sleep on their job as family trainers and guides, youth will go astray. More policing, more recreation, better economic and social adjustments will not solve the problem, because the solution lies deeper than these things.

The solution to the problem lies in the hearts of parents and in the hearts of the youth themselves. It is a problem of the spirit. In Proverbs we read, "A child left to himself bringeth his mother shame." That is what is happening in our communities. We have left our youth to find out too many things for themselves, to make their own decisions without the proper guidance, to form their own ideals without the right foundations. In reviewing family life we find that American parents have given their children almost everything except that which they need most—God. The spirit of youth will always go astray without God. Give youth Christ and His teachings and he will not be swept away by the current of delinquency. Parents could not do better by their youth than to wake up to their own need of Christ and His teachings.

YOU can't give your children what you don't have. We are not making out a "case" for the church—the Christian church does not need to have a "case" made for it. The Christian church has its human limitations but it also has a divine message with a divine command to deliver it. Whoever takes the Christian church seriously will discover that it has the key to right living. But the church cannot reach youth effectively without the cooperation of parents.

One of the best things which could happen right now would be for all parents to check up upon their family situation for the purpose of discovering where they have failed and where they can succeed in building a better family life.

Then it would be a good thing if in every community there were to be a concerted, organized effort to interest and to enlist youth in Christian ideals and Christian living. Such efforts could easily center in Vacation Bible schools, week-day religious instruction in our public schools, Sunday schools and church worship services or in some other movement which might be devised.

Who will deny that there is any real solution to our problem aside from that which reaches the hearts of youth with truly Christian ideals?

MEAT PRODUCTION HITS ALL TIME HIGH

Increase Since 1938 Reaches Peak in 1942.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, May 15.—Production of meat animals, which has been increasing since 1938, soared to a new all time volume in 1942, the department of agriculture reported today. The increase over 1941 was the largest for any year on record.

Total production of cattle, hogs and sheep in 1942 was estimated at 41,300,000,000 pounds, an increase of 4,800,000,000 pounds, or 13 per cent over 1941, the previous record year. Compared with the 1941-40 average, the increase was 32 per cent. It was 53 per cent over the 1909-14 average.

As a result of the record volume of marketings and the high average price per pound, the gross income from meat animals in 1942, estimated at $5,154,000,000, was larger than in any other year and was $1,662,000,000 or 48 per cent higher than in 1941, or 146 per cent higher than the 1941-40 average and 173 per cent higher than the 1909-14 average.

The average price of all meat animals sold in 1942 was $11.67 per 100 pounds, the highest since 1919. The average in 1941 was $9 and in 1940 it was $6.88.

Differences between quantity sold and produced are due to certain year-end inventory differences and because the weight of stocker and feeder cattle shipped into a state is not deducted from the weight of cattle and calves shipped from the state, the department said.

About eight pounds of dehydrated Irish potatoes are the equivalent of a bushel of raw potatoes weighing 60 pounds.

New Job Transfer Plan Worked Out

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, May 15.—Alarmed by an increase in job transfer applications that is causing war plant absenteeism, Director W. P. Edmunds of the Cleveland war manpower committee yesterday urged adoption of a plan tightening procedure in the issuance of job release certificates.

The plan, devised by Ward A. Riley, Dr. Edmunds' assistant in Lorain county, is aimed at keeping applicants seeking transfers at war work while the U. S. employment service considers the requests.

Under the plan, applicants would be required to consult with union stewards before proceeding with applications and would obtain forms from foremen and employment managers, thus saving hours spent away from work to fill out transfer forms at the USES. The Cleveland manpower area covers Lorain and Elyria.

Miss Stephenson sang "Let's All Say a Prayer Tonight," "When the Light Go On Again" and "My Task" and "Through the Years." She was accompanied by Miss Rosalind Manzo.

A large cake decorated with a flag and gold stars was cut and at each plate at the table at which gold star mothers sat was a yellow tulip. A gold star centered each serving of ice cream. Other tables were decorated with purple and white lilacs. A gift was presented each gold star mother.

ALLEN

In the interview with Mr. Howell in 1939, Mr. Allen remembered with regret, the day in 1888 when he broke a leg while playing with the Mansfield club; 1893, when he was struck in the face by a pitched ball at Philadelphia and was forced from the game for three years; 1897, when he rejected a chance to buy the Detroit Tigers for $12,500; and 1900, when he piloted a Cincinnati Red team "that didn't do so well."

Only One Protest

Baseball was good to Allen and he was always first to recognize this fact. After rounding out more than 50 years of activity in the game he had only one objection and that was the fact that Harry Wright was never named to baseball's hall of fame at Cooperstown, N. Y., where the game originated.

At the time of the Cincinnati meeting Allen recalled, "Harry managed the first and only unbeaten team in baseball in '69 here in Cincinnati. That feat was the thing that brought baseball leagues into being and fostered the keen competition that has lived down through the last 70 years. To me, Wright is the real father of professional baseball and he should not only be in the hall of fame, but he should be the most honored one there."

Mr. Allen had at least one narrow escape from death on the diamond. In his sixth season with Philadelphia he was struck by a pitched ball thrown by a Cincinnati hurler. The blow narrowly missed being fatal and for a time it was thought it would impair his eyesight. He returned to Marion after the mishap, intending to retire from the game. But two years later he was persuaded to accept the management of the Detroit team of the Western league.

It was while he managed the Detroit team that he brought it to Marion for an exhibition. The locals won out over Detroit in a 13-inning duel with Jack Harper, later a big league performer, receiving credit for the victory. Harper moved into the big time mainly on the strength of defeating Allen's Detroit club.

In 1900, the year the American league was formed, Allen accepted the managership of the Cincinnati Reds but at the end of a year retired from baseball because of outside interests. In 1915 the call of the game again proved too strong for him and he bought the Little Rock franchise.

"Although not as hard a hitter as Jennings or Long, Allen was considered one of the greatest shortstops in the game," a story which appeared in The Star more than 20 years ago stated.

INCREASE BOMB LOAD FOR BIG U. S. PLANES

Fortresses and Liberators Can Carry 10 Tons.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 15—Taking a tip from the conversion of speedy fighter planes into light bombers, the army air forces have developed a new loading technique to double the striking power of American four-engined bombers, officers disclosed.

Both the Boeing B-17 Flying Fortress and the Consolidated B-24 Liberator have been adapted to carry a two-ton block-buster under each wing, as well as to increase slightly the bomb bay capacity—thus lifting their total bomb load from 3½ and 4 tons to 10 tons.

The shift involves reduction and redistribution of the fuel load, and the greater bomb capacity is achieved only at the cost of considerable range as well as a smaller loss of both speed and altitude. But it gives the Flying Fortress and the Liberator a one-ton edge over Britain's Lancaster, which previously carried the largest load of explosives.

There was no indication that any of the modified bombers had yet seen action, but officers said the change-over passed the experimental stage weeks ago and has been approved as a standard procedure.

WOMAN INJURED AS GALION HOME BURNS

Mrs. Margaret Miller Burned As She Rescues Daughter.

GALION, May 15—The wife of a soldier, Mrs. Margaret Miller, 21, suffered only slight burns when fire singed the hair on her head as she rescued her 2-year-old daughter, Judith Ann, been Geiger, when their home and its contents were destroyed by fire here Friday.

Mrs. Miller was lighting a gas oil stove when it exploded and set fire to the home. Only a new cedar chest and baby buggy were saved before the entire residence was in flames.

The two-room bungalow at 654 Crew avenue, was owned by Mrs. Helen E. Riddlebaugh, mother of Mrs. Miller, who was at work at the Stratbury Manufacturing Co. at the time of the blaze.

Home and contents were a complete loss as there was no insurance. The three persons, Mrs. Riddlebaugh, Mrs. Miller and daughter, made their home in the bungalow.

The fire department was summoned, but the flames had gained too much headway to save any of the contents.

Mrs. Miller's husband, Pvt. Ralph E. Miller, is believed now at an overseas station.

BUILDING COSTS IN 1942 UP SLIGHTLY

Rate of Increase Slows Down in Last Six Months.

While building costs rose four per cent during 1942, the wartime rate of increase slowed down considerably in the last six months, the Federal Home Loan Bank Administration announced today. Its index is based on a running record of the cost of constructing a standard six-room frame house in key cities throughout the country.

"The rise in costs in 1942 was far less pronounced than in 1941," according to the Federal Home Loan Bank Review's annual summary of home financing conditions. "Labor costs mounted five per cent in the year while costs of materials went up three per cent. In spite of a slight decline in some material prices toward the end of 1942, the cost of home construction remained as much as 12 per cent higher than in 1940, and 25 per cent above the 1935-1939 average, taken as the base period for the Administration's monthly index on the cost of the standard home.

At the end of 1942, the index of cost of the standard home was 124.5, as compared with 119.9 the year before and 100 for the 1935-1939 average.

The composite index of wholesale building material prices, as reported by the U. S. Department of Labor, was 122.8 at the year end, as compared with 120.4 in December 1941 and 110.9 two years before.

Notwithstanding the increase in costs, the average building permit value declined from $3,500 for 1941 to about $3,100 for 1942. Restrictions on the use of certain materials, the standardization of the size and equipment of units, and the shift to temporary types of structures were responsible for this reversal in the price of units.

Thermostat Location Important in Heating

Often homes are unsatisfactorily heated, because of the improper location of the thermostat.

The thermostat can only attempt to keep a uniform air temperature in its immediate vicinity.

Therefore, it is important that it is not located where it will be affected by drafts or unusual heating conditions.

Heating engineers warn against placing the thermostat on outside walls, or on walls adjacent to heating pipes or hot chimneys.

Blue-eyed, brown-haired Lady Sarah is a distant relative of Mr. Churchill. Her grandmother is the former Consuelo Vanderbilt.

Gas and electricity are vital to war production. That's why it is imperative that we use both wisely and efficiently. Here are some suggestions to follow:

1. Instead of using several small bulbs in a lamp, use one large bulb. A 100 watt bulb will give more light and use less electricity than two 50 watt bulbs.

2. Remember you do not need as much light when listening to the radio as when reading.

3. Remember to turn out lights when you leave an empty room.

4. Keep your lamps clean to get the most benefit from the light.

5. Disconnect all electrical appliances when you have finished using them.

6. Defrost your refrigerator regularly, whether gas or electric.

7. Conserve gas or electricity in cooking. When you're using the oven plan to bake more than one dish. Once a pot has boiled, you can reduce the heat and still maintain the boiling point. Use a small unit or burner, when possible, instead of a large one. Don't turn on the heat until you are ready to put the pan on. Be sure your gas always burns a blue flame.

ARMY OFFERS COMMISSION TO CIVILIAN SPECIALISTS

Representative To Interview Applicants in Marion Monday.

Lt. T. M. Durey of the Columbus Officer Procurement District will be in Marion Monday from 1 to 5:30 p. m. to interview men qualified to receive United States Army commissions direct from civil life.

Those qualified have been asked to call on Lt. Durey at the Marion Chamber of Commerce. Men are urgently needed to fill the requisitions for officers with technical training and experience, Army officials said.

Candidates are being sought to serve as instructors in technical subjects: nutrition officers; bacteriologists; heavy equipment, highway; sanitary, industrial hygiene, telephone, telegraph, radio and electrical engineers; and specialists for the military government schools.

Men for the military government requisition will be commissioned and enrolled in one of the schools now being planned by the Provost Marshal General's office. They must be men of outstanding ability who have had five years' service in a position requiring broad administrative experience and involving policy-making functions. Knowledge of a foreign language is desirable. Age limits are 35 to 55 years with men 38 to 45 preferred.

Care of Kitchen Sinks Urged Especially During Home Canning Season Work

Give a thought to your sink, in the rush and enthusiasm of canning your victory garden, plumbing experts suggest to thrifty and patriotic homemakers.

The kitchen sink is an essential factor in home canning. Here fruits and vegetables are washed, cleansed, and prepared for cooking. All methods of food preservation by canning involve the use of water drawn at the sink.

In peacetime, more cast iron enameled sinks were made and sold than all other kinds combined, but this kind of sink is no longer available since cast iron has gone to war. You are, therefore, more likely to start canning your victory vegetables—and possibly you raised some berries or fruit, too—at a glistening, sanitary cast iron enameled sink which today cannot be replaced. It is, then, necessary that you should take every precaution to protect this important piece of kitchen equipment during canning.

The smooth, shining, sanitary surface of the cast iron enameled sink is an ideal place for cleaning vegetables and fruits because there are no lurking places for germs. Primarily, canning is a means of protecting foods from the germs and spores which cause decay. The first step in canning is to clean vegetables or fruits thoroughly and keep them clean until cooked. This means that your sink with its integral drain boards is the center of your canning activities.

Fortunate is the homemaker who has an acid-resisting enameled cast iron sink for this finish is impervious to acids. You may go ahead blithely canning anything from tomatoes to pickled peaches, without worrying about what will happen to the enameled finish on your sink. It is, of course, the part of wisdom to wipe off the sink with hot water and soap, as soon as you are through, for even this protective, acid-resisting finish needs good care.

Homemakers whose sinks have regular enamaled finishes should be particularly careful during the canning season. Fruit or vegetable juices, or vinegar preparations should not be allowed to remain on the sink more than a few minutes. If it is necessary to use a triangular garbage container, it should be emptied frequently so that acids draining from peelings and parings will not harm the surface of the sink.

Another word of precaution to the wise and thrifty homemaker concerns the use of a cutting board when preparing vegetables for the canning kettle. Don't cut directly on the sink drainboard as it is well nigh impossible to keep from scratching or nicking the enameled finish with the knife. And don't scrape pots and pans across the basin or drainboard of the sink. Ugly scratches can never be effaced.

And, a final word of caution: In cleaning up your cast iron enameled sink, after you have canned your victory garden, don't use strong cleaning solutions like washing soda or gritty abrasives. Hot water and soap will do the job better and be easier on the sink.

Taking good care of household equipment is a contribution to the war effort which every homemaker can make. Each member of the family, in fact, should know what he can do to help protect the useful kitchen sink, and other fixtures, which cannot be replaced and cannot continue to give good service unless they received good care.

HOME REPAIR OF ELECTRIC CORDS

Many of Them Can Be Made by Housewives.

Every home has a repair problem and since it isn't so easy these days to get expert help, every woman should fit herself to take care of as much as she possibly can. We should all know as much as possible about the handling of minor electrical repairs.

Your home will be safe and you will have light when you need it if household electrical equipment is kept in good repair and watched for signs of trouble. Prompt repairing prevents further damage to lamps and fixtures, safeguards you and your family from fires, shocks and dark-time accidents.

Many things go wrong with electrical equipment that can be easily repaired, such as frayed cords. Others such as faulty switches require the help of a qualified repair man, but in any case everyone should know how to recognize the symptoms of faulty equipment.

These symptoms include flickering lights, radio static when light is turned on or off, failure of light to come on at the first flick of the switch, fraying of cords, loose plug connections, and shocks received from touching part of a lamp or switch.

Should you notice a cord frayed in the middle, then it's a cinch to repair it. Simply clean away the frayed part and then tape up each wire separately, using electrician's tape, since adhesive tape cakes and cracks very quickly. Then tape the taped wires together. Remember; when doing this or any other electrical repairs, always remove the plug from the electric light socket, or outlet.

If a cord is frayed near the plug then remove from socket, unloosen screws and pull out wire. Cut off frayed part of wire. Then reinsert wire in plug, placing wires around the prongs first, so that when the cord is yanked or jerked, the pressure will be on the prongs and not on the cord.

Plugs should fit snugly into sockets. Bend prongs apart carefully with finger pressure just enough to insure a snug fit or bend out the ends of the prongs with a pair of pliers.

Incidentally we would like to mention that home repair classes are being held in many sections of the country.

Light-Proof Room Aids Day Sleepers

Better daytime rests means better nighttime work.

Today thousands work through the long night hours turning out the tanks, planes, guns, and other material essential to the war effort. These people must rest during the daylight hours and be ready to return to their jobs refreshed. Sounder sleep provides more energy for the hours on the job.

Completely light-proof window shades add immeasurably to the comfort and well-being of night-shift workers. For actual tests made in light, semi-darkened, and completely dark rooms, have shown that sleep is deepest and most beneficial when the sleeping room is dark. Sleep comes sooner also, saving precious minutes of sleeping time.

Whether light proof or not, cloth window shades are great heat insulators — an important consideration these fuel-rationed days. When pulled to the sill, the shade forms a pocket of insulating air between itself and the window.

Trained for Service and Leadership

THE group of public-spirited citizens who sponsored the series of advertisements published recently in The Star in behalf of the Boy Scout movement and organization are entitled to a feeling of satisfaction and pride for performance of noteworthy service.

The value of scouting to the community and to the nation was never more effectively brought to the public's attention in this locality. And never has clearer emphasis been placed upon the need of public support of the Boy Scout program. That point is all-important and we hope it has been impressed so indelibly upon the minds of people in Marion and vicinity that there will be substantial and lasting results. Adult cooperation and leadership are vitally essential for maintenance and expansion of Boy Scout membership and activities, and to enlist such support to the greatest extent possible was obviously one of the primary purposes of the recent series of advertisements.

Development of the Boy Scout movement in Marion county and the rest of the Harding area has been notable, but vastly more can be accomplished if the suggestions and recommendations set up so admirably in the advertisements get adequate response. We believe such response will be forthcoming.

The value of Boy Scout training was never better understood nor more thoroughly appreciated than it is today. Its merit as a builder of high standard manhood has been demonstrated over a long period of years and these definite results have been a predominant factor in the continued growth and augmented prestige of the organization, but the comparatively few recent years of extraordinary human stress and strife have probably done more than all others to bring out the full value and meaning of Scouting. Since the outbreak of the war, and during the trying experiences of the economic depression which preceded the war, Boy Scouts have proved their worth and character in many ways, always ready to help in community campaigns and solicitations for human welfare, in the conduct of public parades and assemblies, and in carrying on drives for furtherance of the nation's war effort. And always they have done a good job.

This has been more than public service. It has been proof of the merit and effectiveness of Scout training and evidence that it instills in these boys the spirit and ideals which will make them the type of citizens this country will need in the future.

This need—for men of high character, ability and purpose—will be greatest need of all during the years after peace has been restored. From the ranks of the Boy Scouts will come many such men, just as they have in the past, only the call will be for vastly increased numbers.

The Marion and Harding area Scout troops will contribute mightily toward supplying this need if people of the community provide the support requested by the citizens who sponsored the recent published appeal.

The call is for active participation in Scout leadership by men of ability and character from all walks of life, for sponsorship of troops by representative organizations, and for every other available means of aid and cooperation.

Japanese Nerves

IT IS ardently to be hoped for that Japan's undercover system relaying hints of things to come to the war lords in Tokyo will make the most of reports that the strategy now being planned in Washington is aimed at them.

The tensile strength of Japanese nerves has not been tested adequately up to this point in the war. Japan has had the privilege of keeping its enemies in suspense, of making the first moves and forcing the other side to fight when, where and how Japan wanted them to fight. It will be good to know that the Japanese now are going to do the guessing.

The success of their campaign to isolate China has had the effect of immobilizing that powerful ally of the United States and Great Britain, as far as launching any kind of an offensive is concerned. If the strategy now being developed in Washington can put China back into the war as an offensive factor, the whole shape of the campaign in the Pacific will be changed. It is something for Japanese militarists to think about as they count their heavy losses on the sea and in the air. Every detail that can be permitted to leak out of Washington should be sent on its way without delay. It is one time when Americans hope the busy little men of Nippon will make the most of every chance to pass along the hot news.

Italians Seen As Having Played Important Role in War; Not To Be Laughed At.

By WALTER LIPPMANN

NEW YORK, May 15 — A sound judgment on coming events is impossible so far as the hold [illegible] on that peninsula. Italy is not one of the great military powers, Italy is a negligible factor in the World War. As a matter of fact Italy plays a critical role in the war against Japan as well as against Germany.

The intervention of Italy coincides with the treachery of Marshal Petain, Laval and Admiral Darlan in taking the French navy out of the war. This compelled the British to concentrate a fleet in the Mediterranean and strained their naval power to such a degree that they have never had the ships which were necessary to attack Japan or even to oppose her.

We must never forget because it is essential to an understanding of the future, that the capitulation of Petain, the intervention of Mussolini and the Japanese seizure of Indo-China all took place in June, 1940, and were part of one grand strategical plan.

The campaigns of Rommel were based on Italy and would have been impossible without support of the Italian navy, army and air force.

Italian Influence

Though the Italian army suffered inglorious reverses against Greece, without Italy the German conquest of Greece, Yugoslavia and Crete and occupation of the Balkans would have required forces that Hitler has used elsewhere.

Nor is there much doubt that Italian Fascism has exercised great influence upon the menacing attitude of Spain by convincing the Spanish Fascists that if all Fascists do not hang together they will hang separately.

Thus the victory in Africa will not have been completed until Italy has been eliminated from the war. Italy stands in the way of full use of our air power against Germany; Italy though a second-class naval power, still neutralizes enough of Allied sea power to deprive us of the naval superiority which is necessary for offensive warfare against Japan.

It is probable that defense of Italy is largely in the hands of Italians. They are supported by a German air force and by some troops. But, contrary to the general impression, there is reason to think that Italy is not occupied by a substantial German army.

If this is correct, it is of the utmost importance that we cease to think of the Italians as mere pawns under Hitler's control, that we cease to make fun of them and that we address ourselves seriously to the problems of ending the Italian war quickly.

The clew to what this means was given in Tunisia when the Italian commander-in-chief asked that he be allowed to surrender to the Eighth Army—that is to say, to the famous army which has conquered the Italian empire.

Marshal Messe's feeling on this point of honor are entitled to respect and they are highly instructive. They teach us that in dealing with the Italian army we are dealing with men who will bow to defeat if they are able to feel that they have done their duty and that their soldiers' honor is intact.

Italy's Future

It is clear enough, also, it would seem, that after the defeat in honorable battle the task of dealing with the Italian nation will be simpler if we make it clear that the consequence of unconditional surrender is that Italy will be placed under an Allied and purely military government. Italy is an enemy country and, therefore, nothing that was done in French North Africa is a model or a precedent. The Italians will respect more readily, and will be governed more easily, by the general who has defeated them in battle.

We should only confuse them, impair our standing in the world and entangle ourselves in endless unnecessary trouble if we made a deal with anybody and then became sponsors of an Italian puppet government. Hitler's experience everywhere, and some of our experience as well, shows conclusively that puppet governments are a liability, and that a stern, efficient and just military rule is far more effective.

While the surrender of Italy will have to be as unconditional as that of Germany or Japan, it does not follow that Italy should be treated in the same way. Italy owes reparation to Greece, Yugoslavia, Albania, France and to the people of Spain, and some reparation, chiefly moral, she must make in order to liquidate the memory of the Fascist crimes.

But though some small rectifications of her frontiers are called for in the interest of justice to Austria and to the Yugoslavians, there will be no thought of dismembering Italy. Italy will not lose her independence and, once she returns to a regime of constitutional freedom, there will be no disposition to exclude her from her historic place among the nations. No one thinks of Italy as a lasting menace to the peace of the world.

Thus for the Italian nation but not for Mussolini and the Fascist officials, defeat, which is inexorably certain, can bring honor, peace and a return to the company of civilized men.

The Capital in Wartime

By Jack Stinnett.

WASHINGTON—In spite of the fact that Washington rents are supposed to be frozen, investigators report that the average boarding house rental, for one room and two meals a day, is now $52.50 a month, $10 higher than pre-Pearl Harbor prices.

The lady Marines have landed here and the Marine recruiting office situation is well in hand. Four young lady Marine sergeants walked into the recruiting office the other morning, gave a snappy salute, and presented their orders to take over much of the office duties. Two husky Devil Dog sergeants practically clicked their heels in the clouds. They have been grousing for months because they weren't on combat duty. The two sergeants, now relieved for active duty, are Vincent Holland, Boston, and Norman Beyl, Sellersburg, Ind. The lady Devil Dog sergeants are Mary Haselswerdt, Santa Ana, Calif., Florence Offermatt, Cleveland, O., Christine Matagna, Baltimore, and Madge Fann, Humboldt, Tenn. Incidentally, the forest green feminine marine corps uniforms are the snappiest of any worn by the military dames.

THREE young men scored by a congressional committee for having been draft deferred in government jobs are employes of the Geological Survey map division. Map making is a highly technical job and GS is making maps for the Army Air Forces. If Selective Service had taken these men, without regard for skilled replacements, it's likely some of our flyers would have been setting their planes down in the wrong places because of faulty maps.

If Secretary of Interior Harold Ickes comes through the present coal strike crisis with the same colors he has been flying through almost all of his war efforts, the "curmudgeon" will be one of the most influential members of the war cabinet, and undoubtedly the move will be revived to make him head of war labor and manpower set-ups.

BLACK Market note: Two men broke into a restaurant here the other dawning, didn't bother with the safe and cash receipts hidden there-in but made off with 150 pounds of butter.

Secret service and newspaper men who accompanied the President on his recent trip love to tell about the incident that happened at Amarillo, Texas. The President's limousine drew up at a military post. The guard of honor snapped to present arms, as secret service men opened the door—and out jumped Fala, the President's ink-black Scottie.

The state department is frequently referred to as the most stuff, staid, dignified and snooty of all government divisions—with the possible exception of the supreme court. But when a questionnaire was passed out to employes there recently, with one section asking the workers what they most desired in life, many of them came back with such answers as "more men, more women, more nylon hose and more money."

A Report from New York

From the N. Y. Herald-Tribune.

NOW that the recent disturbances in the vicinity of Forty-third street and Broadway have died down, it may be a good time to examine what it was all about. Word got around that one Harry James, with his band, was to fill an engagement at the Paramount theater. Mr. James plays the silver trumpet and is highly regarded by devotees of his particular type of music. At 8 o'clock on the morning of the opening performance 7,000 youngsters were lined up, waiting to get in. The police, who were overwhelmed for a time, had never seen anything like it. Indeed, who had?

What occurred during the days and nights that followed has given many persons something to think about. In one day it was estimated that 20,000 persons, the great majority of them of school age, took part in this fabulous saturnalia. These young people were so knowing that they were able to pick up the "punch lines" of all the patter and to anticipate everything else, including the part toward the end of each song where every one jumps up and screams. They jigged, writhed, gasped, swayed and groaned.

This business has a certain kinship with what we once, in our innocence, knew as jazz. Most of this modern product is now known as "swing" or "boogie-woogie." The bulk of the devotees who like to contort themselves to its curious cacophonies are known as "jitterbugs." A "hep-cat" is an advanced jitterbug of either sex.

Many ordinary citizens some of them parents, have doubtless wondered about the language of this cult. It would take a fair-sized glossary to give it all. The talk is fully as distinctive, and as full of seeming gibberish, as the slang of the underworld. When one "gives" he cooperates or puts forth his best efforts. When one is "in the groove" he is perfectly attuned, or doing all right. "Shoot the smoot" is an invitation to a kiss. "Jackson" is a name given to any friend, male or female. "It's murder!" is an exclamation of great ecstasy, as when one is being kissed by one's favorite jitterbug. The craze has resulted at its climax in the invention of "the zoot suit," a horrendous thing with narrow bottoms and an enormous low-hanging coat, accompanied for no reason whatsoever, by a dog chain some three feet long.

What of it? Various psychologists, psychiatrists, behaviorists, neurologists and ordinary dance experts have had their say. Some have found a parallel in the Children's Crusades of the Middle Ages; others have recalled the great crowds of Nuremberg, where multitudes swing together. Getting down to earth some observers have said that the manifestations such as occurred here last week might properly be made the concern of parents, school authorities, and those who are supposed to keep an eye on juvenile delinquency. What do our readers say?

"GHOST GOES WEST"

Invasion Stepping Stone

Strategic Mediterranean Islands Loom Large.

ALLIED attack on Axis bases in the Mediterranean islands — Palermo, Messina, Pantelleria — signify that preparations for invasion in that quarter are well advanced. In all the preparations, Malta no doubt is a major factor.

Six months ago, shortly after the Anglo-American invasion of French Morocco and Algeria, Gen. Gort, commander of British forces on Malta, said he looked forward to the day when the island would be used as one of the bases for invasion of Italy from northern Africa.

Malta lies 60 miles from southern Sicily; Allied planes could unload bombs on that Italian island and go back for more in a continuous ferrying operation, reversing the process to which Malta itself was subject as the most bombed place in World war II.

Northwest of Malta is the Italian naval and air base of Pantelleria, still in Axis hands. Pantelleria lies about as near to Tunisia as Malta is to Sicily, so this Italian stronghold may also be in for as heavy and continuous bombardment from the air. Curiously enough, in view of the economic importance of Algeria and the strategic importance of Tunisia to France, France possessed no Mediterranean islands on the direct route from her mainland to French North Africa. Corsica lies off to one side, southeast of France; and between Corsica and Africa sits Sardinia.

The reported Axis rush to protect Sardinia is understandable from this island's geographical position. Southern Sardinia is about 125 miles from Tunisia while about 150 miles from Italy at the nearest point. On the north only a narrow strait of water separates Sardinia from Corsica.

DUE north of Algeria, but much nearer to the European mainland than to Africa, are the Balearic islands. Their exact status today is a matter of some confusion. During the Spanish civil war rumors flew thick that Gen. Franco had promised the Balearics, or one of them, to Italy in return for Italian aid, but the Franco government indignantly denied that it would cede any Spanish territory.

Other rumors have been that Spain has at least leased naval, submarine, or air bases on the Balearics to the Axis. If any such bases exist, and if the Anglo-American successes in northern Africa have persuaded Gen. Franco to take a more independent stand toward the Axis, Allied shipping may proceed through the western Mediterranean much more safely than in earlier months.

At the other end of the Mediterranean lies Crete, taken by German parachute troops after the conquest of Greece proper. Crete is only 75 miles from the mainland, but some 200 miles from Egypt, and the British were unable to hold the island against the German onslaught. Due east of Crete is Cyprus, and Germany was expected to move on that British island after taking over Crete. But Cyprus is 350 miles from Crete, only 100 miles from Syria—a considerable geographical differential against the Axis, and no move was made against Cyprus.

Adjoining Crete on the northeast and stretching to the Asia Minor mainland are the Dodecanese ("twelve") islands and Rhodes. These were occupied by Italy in 1912, during the Italian-Turkish war, and were formally ceded to Italy by Turkey in 1924, by the Treaty of Lausanne. But the cession was an unwilling one, and Turkey may seize on Italys' present plight to demand the return of the islands.

Moron Jokes

We Don't Know Where They Came from But We Suspect Joe Miller Is a Source of Supply.

By DAMON RUNYON

I WONDER who originates the humor of the daffy school that sweeps at intervals across the nation, like the current "moron cycle" to which I hereby submit a sample:

"Did you hear about the little moron who poked his eyes out to go on a blind date?"

I suppose you have already heard a lot of them. The number of the last one that reached my ears was 401,202, with more reported on the way. I have no doubt many of them have been published elsewhere. The general pattern is about the same—"Did you hear about the little moron who:

"Took hay to bed so he could feed his nightmare?

"Stayed up all night to study for a driving test?

"Cut off his fingers so he could take shorthand?

"Saluted all refrigerators in camp because he thought one might be General Electric?

"Moved to town because he heard the country was at war?

"Took a bottle of liquor to bed because he wanted to sleep tight?"

It is my guess it all starts with one moronic little jest—a line just "thrown away," as the actors say, by some wit in casual conversation. It tickles the auditor, who then repeats it to others who fancy this type of humor and commence improvising jokes of their own.

THEN you have your cycle which naturally soon runs its course because, like everything else, we always overdo our gags. You probably remember the Confucius era and the knock-knock plague of a few years back. You were glad to see them pass into limbo and it will not be long before you will be hoping to hear the last of the little moron who:

"Didn't want to take a street car home because his wife would make him take it back.

"Looked through a screen door to strain his eyes.

"Stuck his head out the window so the wind would blow his nose.

"Cut off his arms so he could wear a sleeveless sweater.

"Took his nose apart to see what made it run.

"Took a bike to bed so he wouldn't have to walk in his sleep.

"Went to a lumber company to see about his draft board."

WELL, I do not think all of them are funny, either, and I have no doubt many of these quips could be traced to another form of another era, because our humor has a way of returning to us time and again in different guises. I seem to recognize the old "she-is-so-dumb-she-thinks" etc. routine that had a short run. But as a conscientious reporter I must keep my readers jerry to things like cycles and the latest is about this little moron who:

"Wore a cellophane suit because his doctor told him to watch his stomach.

"Killed his father and mother so he could go to the orphans picnic.

"Put peanuts in his shoes to feed his pigeon toes.

"Wore pumps because he had water on the knee.

"Cut a hole in the rug to see the dirty floor show.

"Went to the roof because he heard the drinks were on the house.

"Wouldn't pay his street car fare because he said he was crime and crime never pays."

WHEN I was a boy back in my old home town of Pueblo, they tarred and feathered and ran out of our municipality on a rail a fellow who spent all his time thinking up gags and who finally bored our citizens beyond endurance. I cannot recall any of those gags, but I am sure none were any worse than the one you may have already heard about the little moron who:

"Went off a street car backwards because he heard two women say they were going to grab his seat."

And P. S.: Guys who think they authored any of the above better not write me or I'll trace them back to Joe Miller.

So They Say—

The characteristic of leadership in a democracy is that it is democratic. Leadership in a democracy is subject to change without notice. Leaders are chosen—elected or selected—by the people and rejected by the people.—Edward L. Bernays, public relations expert.

After the war, Britain can be a bridge of understanding between Europe and America—between Russia and the United States, if you like. If Britain and Russia cannot understand each other, there is no hope for peace.—Brig. Gen. M. P. Vernon Bartlett.

Lend-Lease Plug

From 20 to 30 tons of the strongest, blackest chewing tobacco that ever turned a man's insides out is now being supplied to Australia under lend-lease, and some of it is also going to American forces in the Pacific area. Reason is that the natives of New Guinea use it for money, passing it from hand to hand in place of dollars and dimes. In a way, this shows how much more advanced the jungle people are and how much smarter than civilized folks whose coins do not improve the soup and whose paper currency is no good to eat.

Hardened American chewers couldn't stomach this Pacific brand of eating tobacco. It is called "twist" but it isn't the conventional loop U. S. chewers are brought up on. This New Guinea 'baccy is twisted like rope and cut in seven-inch lengths which are pressure-flattened into sticks a quarter of an inch thick and half an inch wide. It looks something like a stick of flat licorice, but don't let it fool you. The tobacco is made from stronger, lower-grade screens and stems, fire-cured like snuff, and the sticks are heavily "cased" with a secret dressing which makes them black.

But two or three sticks will buy a downed airman's way out of the jungle and back to civilization, complete with transportation via litter or boat, food en route, and a guide.

Blind Composer and Musician To Appear in Recital

Arthur Kellogg, composer and musician, will be presented in a recital Sunday afternoon, May 23, at Hotel Harding, under the sponsorship of the Marion Lecture-Recital club. It was announced today by the sponsors. The program will be at 4 o'clock.

Mr. Kellogg, who is blind, will play a program of his own compositions. One of his songs, "Sheila," was made popular on the radio by John Charles Thomas. Other compositions include "Teach Me the Right Way to Live," and "Fulfillment," hymns, and he set to music Kipling's famous poem, "Mother o' Mine," which he dedicated to his own mother in 1937, a year after her death.

Miss Jean Midlam and John Hall Exchange Vows

THE marriage of Miss Jean Elnour Midlam, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Midlam of east of Marion, and John Hall, son of Harry Hall of Philadelphia, took place last evening in the Prospect Street Methodist church. The ceremony was read by Rev. Henry Maag, pastor, in the presence of close relatives and friends, at 7 o'clock.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was costumed in a two-piece suit in a luggage tan shade with harmonizing accessories, and she wore a lavender orchid. The candles were lighted by Miss Martha Midlam, niece of the bride, and James and Russell Midlam, nephews, were ushers. Preceding the ceremony Mrs. Robert Rice, organist, played a program of nuptial music and accompanied Miss Margaret Dietsch who sang "Oh Promise Me" and "Ah! Sweet Mystery of Life."

Following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Midlam were hosts at a dinner at Ringer's Inn and later the couple left on a short wedding trip. The bride was graduated from Ohio university in January this year, and is employed at the U. S. Rubber Co. Mr. Hall, who is in the Army Reserve Corps, will be graduated from Ohio university this spring and expects to enter military service.

VATICAN BROADCASTS IN GERMAN LANGUAGE

Pope Longs for Peace, but Not at Any Price.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, May 15—The Vatican radio said in a German-language broadcast today that Pope Pius XII longed peace, "but not peace at any price," and declared the settlement at the end of the present war must give every man "his freedom and personality, his rights and religion."

The broadcast, recorded here by the office of war information, quoted the pontiff as declaring he hoped the present war would not lead to the destruction of any nation, and expressing desire that the peace "would not become the starting point for further wars."

Declaring that the present war must be marked by "a peace guaranteeing true veneration of God," the broadcast quoted the pontiff as saying:

"Render unto Caesar the things which are Caesar's and unto God the things which are God's—one would like to add: "Give unto man things which are man's: give man his freedom and personality, his rights and religion."

109 Axis Generals Now Allied Prisoners

By The Associated Press

LONDON, May 15 — One hundred and nine axis generals have been captured by the allies, exclusive of Russia, since the war began, it was reported authoritatively today.

The most important of these were Gen. Ritter Von Thoma, African corps commander, and Col. Gen. Jurgen Von Arnim, who succeeded Field Marshal Erwin Rommel as axis commander in chief in Tunisia.

In all 19 German generals were listed. Ninety Italian generals have been taken, but some died in captivity, including the Duke of Aosta, who was caught in Ethiopia.

No authoritative estimate was available in London of the number of axis generals in Russian hands. The Soviet embassy, however, said that in the Stalingrad surrender alone 24 generals were taken along with Field Marshal Gen. Friedrich Paulus.

Majority Against Bombing of Rome, Survey Indicates

By GEORGE GALLUP

Director, American Institute of Public Opinion.

PRINCETON, N. J., May 15.—With Allies air forces brought to within 400 miles of Rome by the conquest of Tunisia, the question arises as to whether there is general public approval of the Allied policy which has avoided the aerial bombing of Rome thus far in the war.

The ancient center of Catholic culture presents a number of legitimate military targets both in the city itself and the suburbs—factories, military camps, shipyards and the like. Although the Axis has indiscriminately bombed many historic landmarks in England and elsewhere, it is frequently argued that Rome should be entirely spared even though other Axis capitals have been bombed by the Allies.

The question of bombing Rome is obviously one for military decision rather than popular decision. But the public's viewpoint presents an interesting sidelight on the issue.

A coast to coast survey by the Institute among Americans who have followed the discussion of the question or indicate an interest in the problem shows that the weight of opinion is in support of the Allied policy of sparing Rome from mass air attacks.

As might be expected, Catholics interviewed in the survey were overwhelmingly opposed to bombing Rome. Protestants were also found to be opposed, although by a smaller majority. Among non-church members opinion was closely divided, with a slight preponderance in favor of bombing the Italian capital.

The survey was conducted on the following issue:

"Do you thing the Allied air forces should bomb Rome?"

The general attitude is as follows:

Yes	37%
No	51
No Opinion	12

The relative attitudes of Catholics, Protestants and non-church members, interviewed in the study were as follows:

	Yes	No	Undec.
Catholics	24%	67%	9%
Protestants	36	52	12
Non-Church Members	47	40	13

The reasons for these attitudes are typified in the report of what one interviewer for the Institute found in Pittsburgh:

"Because Rome is thought of as the 'Holy City,' about half of the people interviewed here objected strongly to its being bombed. Besides pointing out that it is the home of the Pope, they gave various reasons against the bombing—it is not truly a military objective—bombs would be of more use on Berlin—it would be a 'spite' bombing. Others who took the affirmative side said that Rome being the heart of Italy, should be struck just as hard as any other Axis capital, that such bombing would aid an invasion of Italy and hasten a psychological crack-up of the Mussolini government."

An interviewer in Strasburg, Virginia, reports: "The attitude of those here who think Rome should be bombed is best expressed in the words of one voter: "Sure, look what the Axis did to France and England and think what they would do to us if they could, and you tell me why Rome should not be bombed."

Another typical reaction is reported by the interviewer in Sidney, Nebraska: "Let's not be any more barbarous than we have to be, but if that's the only language they understand, give it to them. Anything to win this war and do it quickly."

Nazis Reported Using Girl Gunners in Bombers

By The Associated Press

PHOENIXVILLE, Pa., May 15 — A story of girl gunners in Nazi bombers is being told by American soldiers wounded in Tunisia.

"One of the girl gunners shot down near us," said Sgt. Victor R. Woodward of Seymour, Ind., "was a very pretty blond.

"Girls are small enough to fit into the tail position of German bombers and there is no reason why they can't shoot as well as men."

His story was corroborated by others among the several hundred soldiers — some of them wounded only three weeks ago — who are arriving daily at the army's new Valley Forge general hospital.

Meat Rules Relaxed in Regard To Farmers

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 15 — The office of price administration eased its meat rationing regulations today as they apply to farm consumption of home-produced livestock.

Under the new regulations, a farmer having his cattle slaughtered and dressed will not have to surrender red ration points for the meat.

Heretofore, custom slaughtered meat required ration stamps. Livestock killed and dressed on the farm was exempt.

A farmer now may consume meat raised on any farm he owns or operates, and may transfer meat from one farm to another to provide food for members of the household without giving up ration points.

The "city farmer," however, still must pay with red stamps. If he consumes meat away from the farm he owns, he must surrender stamps.

Union Co. Soldier First in Marion Area To Die in Enemy Prison Camp

Special to The Star

MARYSVILLE, May 15 — The first death of a service man from the Marion area while a prisoner of war was reported today when Mr. and Mrs. Porter Knisley of near Marysville were notified by a telegram from the war department of the death of their son, Cpl. Donald P. Knisley, 26.

Cpl. Knisley was a member of the United States Coast Guard stationed on Corregidor Island in the Philippines when that fortress fell to the Japs in May, 1942. He had enlisted in the Coast Guard in January, 1941 and was a member of the coast artillery when the island fell.

Later that month he was reported missing in action. Then on Jan. 19 the parents received word from the war department that he was a prisoner of the Japanese and were told how to communicate with him through the International Red Cross.

Yesterday the parents received a telegram reporting his death in the Asiatic area. A letter informed them that Cpl. Knisley had died at Hoten Camp, Asiatic area, but the date was not known. According to the word received, his death was due to acute enteritis (inflammation of the intestines).

CPL. DONALD P. KNISLEY

Prior to his enlistment in 1941, Cpl. Knisley was employed in the receiving room of Nestles Milk Products, Ind., in Marysville.

2 MARYSVILLE MEN SLUGGED IN HOLDUP

Publisher and Loan Executive Battle Robber.

MARYSVILLE, May 15—A gunman slugged two prominent Marysville residents with a gun, winning a hand-to-hand struggle when they resisted his holdup efforts at noon today, but was caught a short time later five miles north of Marysville while trying to escape.

The holdup man, who gave his name as George Homer Hogan, 33, of Detroit and Hamilton, O., tried to hold up W. H. Snodgrass, former postmaster and now secretary of the Marysville Credit Bureau, and Walter M. Otte, publisher of the Marysville Tribune, in the credit bureau office at noon.

Snodgrass, 65, attacked the intruder and both he and Otte figured in the tussle. They wrested the gun away from Hogan, but he managed to get it back and slugged both men over the head and escaped.

Anthony Pfarr, district conservation officer and former deputy sheriff, and Lewis Donley, a guard at the Scioto Ordnance Plant, who took part in the chase, overtook Hogan's car on a side road north of Marysville a few minutes later.

Workers Pegged To Jobs in Eastern Section

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 15 — A semi-rigid embargo was clamped today on the movement of virtually all workers into or out of any town in the middle Atlantic states or the nation's capital to take jobs with new employers.

Simultaneously, essential workers in Virginia, North Carolina, West Virginia and the District of Columbia were tied to their present bosses unless the employers or the U. S. employment service give them permits to work for others.

The embargo and job-peg, effective immediately, were ordered by Leo R. Werts, acting director of the war manpower commission's region four, on authority of WMC Chairmna Paul V. McNutt.

War of Nerves Turned Against Axis Effectively

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

Allied initiative of global proportions continues to intensify, forcing the axis-Japanese combination to stand on the alert at many points.

Hitler's Europe has been rocking under an unprecedented deluge of bombs, from west to east. Italy and her great islands of Sicily and Sardinia have been undergoing furious air-raids. American forces have stormed their way ashore the Jap base of rock-bound Attu up among the Aleutian islands of Alaska, and bitter fighting is reported to be proceeding.

Out of this welter of pressure and threats will emerge new allied offensives. At this moment we can't foresee with certainty where the blows will come, and therein lies the value of this war of nerves which the United Nations are waging. The enemy is on the defensive—in the dark.

Offensive in Europe

Signs point to the next major offensive coming in Europe. Observers in Tunisia believe it will fall with certainty on Sicily and Sardinia as a natural corollary to the axis debacle in North Africa, and it might be extended to the Italian mainland.

However, these are fast moving days when high commands have to make quick decisions. Necessity or opportunity may provide the impulse for an offensive—and there are numerous points at which it might come. Italian territory likely is the best bet at the moment, but western France and the Balkans also are inviting trouble.

One thing stands out clearly. The allied air offensive over Europe is doing a tremendous job of softening up the Boche. Not only are the Americans and British airfleets tearing into the continent as far afield as Czecho-Slovakia, but the war of the air over the Ruhr is intense. Soviet airmen have been ranging clear from their central front to Warsaw.

The Anglo-American air assaults are on a scale which is inflicting severe damage to vital spots in the axis war-machine. Industrial centers, supply points and communications are being crippled and even wiped out. When I was in England last fall I was told in high quarters that destruction of 150 targets of this nature would so weaken Hitler that an invasion army could be landed from the English channel without undue losses. Since then many of these targets must have suffered heavily.

Must Be Seen

You have to see to believe the destruction of one of these major raids. I was guest of Air Chief Marshal Sir Arthur Harris at his home and we sat up until the early morning hours studying the effects of mass raids as shown in England air-photos. Forty per cent of the great industrial city of Cologne had been destroyed in one solid block, and another 25 per cent in scattered areas—a total of 65 per cent. Yet they tell us the raid the other night on Duisburg, industrial and railway center, unloaded an unprecedented weight of bombs. We haven't complete details of this raid, but it was reported as successful.

We shall do well to keep an eye on the continent, for its getting ripe for invasion.

If our assault on Attu island is successful we shall have done much to render the position of the Japs in the Aleutians innocuous. This would tend to stymie them from developing Kiska as an air and submarine base which could threaten the Alaskan mainland.

PLANT TO BE CLOSED

By The Associated Press

TOLEDO, O., May 15—The nearly completed $5,000,000 plant of the liquid-cooled engine division, Aviation Corp., will be closed tonight, W. F. Wise, vice president, announced today, following curtailment orders by the war production board Wednesday. Production of a new type airplane engine was expected to begin soon. More than 450 workers already hired will be shifted to other aircraft plants, according to Wise.

Spinach and meat retain more nutritive value when dehydrated than when canned, scientists report.

WAR COUNCIL TALKS RESUME

Strategy Session Continues After Churchill Broadcasts Message.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 15—President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill resumed their war-strategy conferences today amid capital reports that the two United Nations leaders are discussing post-war plans as well as an early invasion of Hitler's Europe by allied armies.

This speculation stemmed from the prime minister's declaration that he and Mr. Roosevelt are planning "well ahead of the armies who are moving swiftly forward."

Churchill's assertion on future planning came after he had pledged, in a broadcast to Britain yesterday, that the time was approaching when allied troops massed in Britain, including many thousands of Americans, would assault the Nazi strongholds.

War News Holds Top

War news continued to hold the top spot in Washington even as the allied capital still thrilled at the recent smashing victory in Tunisia. The latest encouraging expressions for the United Nations cause came in Churchill's confident predictions of victory and in the American navy's report of the landing of United States troops on Japanese-held Attu island in the Aleutians.

On the domestic front, house and senate proponents and opponents of the modified Ruml skip-a-year income tax proposal, which passed the senate yesterday, indicated a deadlock might face the legislation. And John L. Lewis, head of the United Mine Workers, apparently has the next move in the soft-coal mine wage dispute—a controversy in which the mine operators have accepted a war labor board order to resume bargaining.

Promises Action

After promising that troops concentrated in Britain would cross the seas to attack German positions, Churchill said:

"We are gathered here now with the highest professional authorities in all the fighting services of the two great English-speaking nations, to plan well ahead of the armies who are moving swiftly forward."

A senate Democratic-Republican coalition defeated administration forces last night to pass the modified Ruml skip-a-year income tax measure, which the house has rejected. The senate vote was 49 to 30.

There is a difference of 25 per cent in the amount of tax abatement between the house and senate tax bills. The senate measure was sent back to the house and almost certainly will wind up in a conference committee. A deadlock in the committee would delay enactment of the legislation, which already has caused one of the most heated tax controversies in congressional history.

In the mine wage fight, Lewis declined to comment on the WLB order directing a resumption of negotiations.

ATTU BATTLE

the opinion the admirals and generals in charge of the operation, having full knowledge of enemy strength on the island, must have struck with a force sufficient to assure a complete and smashing victory.

This optimistic prospect increased the tone of confidence already injected into the Roosevelt-Churchill conferences by the tremendous allied triumph in North Africa. At the same time it gave fresh support to speculation that prosecution of the Pacific war would not be allowed to lag because of the concentration of major forces in the European theater.

Large Force Required

The attack on Attu, requiring many ships and thousands of men, was regarded as conclusive evidence that ships and men are available in great numbers for offensive action against the Japanese, since for such an objective the American command could not afford to weaken its positions elsewhere along the 5,000-mile battle line.

The island battle unquestionably was bitter with weather and terrain aiding a tenacious foe in opposing a successful landing and subsequent push inland. Aleutians weather is characterized by violent shifting winds and fog, rain and snow. The water in the Bering sea on the northern side of the island chain is so cold that a human can hardly stay alive in it more than 30 or 40 minutes.

Moreover the surf which beats against the islands invariably is high and strong.

Jap People Prepared for Bad News from Attu

By The Associated Press

In an apparent effort to prepare the Japanese people for bad news from the fighting on Attu island, former Minister of War General Sadao Araki was quoted by the German radio today as having declared that "setbacks there and at home will only increase our strength."

At no point in the broadcast, which was recorded by The Associated Press, was Araki quoted as predicting a Japanese victory on Attu. He said, merely, that whatever happened there "in no wise could affect the will to victory and certainty of victory of the Japanese people."

VOLUNTEERS CALLED FOR RATION BOOK JOB

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., May 15 — Civilian defense agencies today began recruiting thousands of volunteers to help send an estimated 7,000,000 copies of war ration book No. 3 to Ohioans.

H. T. Beckman, state director of the office of price administration, said 700 to 2,000 volunteers would be needed daily to process applications from June 1 to July 21.

Both the applications and the new ration books will be delivered by postmen, the former between May 20 and June 5, and the latter late in June.

The forms must be filled out and returned before June 10 to a mailing center to be established here. Those postmarked after that date will not be handled until after Aug. 1, Beckmann declared.

The application will contain a card on which the names of persons eligible for ration book No. 3 in a single household must be listed. On a stub attached to the card must be written the name of the head of the house and the address to which the books are to be sent.

The form also contains an identification tag to be detatched and kept by the applicant. He presents this stub to the local ration board if he fails to receive a ration bookk.

If a ration book is not located, the applicant must make affidavit that he failed to receive it and a duplicate will be issued.

The new book will replace No. 1 and No. 2 books when they expire and will contain stamps for meat, processed foods, sugar, coffee and shoes.

AKRON

president of the CIO Transit Workers Union, Mayor George J. Harter and William H. Wright, local union president, advised the men to return to work.

The strike started early Thursday when operators left their jobs without warning.

Wright said the men walked off because of "accumulated grievances" adding that the company "is hiding behind the war effort in refusing or delaying settlement of grievances." WLB Disputes Director Frederick Bullen said the strike arose from the jurisdictional dispute involving an AFL agreement governing maintenance employes. The operators seek a $1.25 hourly wage, compared with their present 86½ cent hourly rate.

Three other Ohio strikes also were at an end today.

President Everett Williams of the CIO Steelworkers Local said more than 450 unionists voted to end today their five-day strike which closed the Pittsburgh Fittings and Valve division of the Pitcairn Co., at nearby Barberton.

The workers agreed to resume production, he said, pending arbitration of a protest against temporary layoffs of six union officials of from one to two weeks.

A day-old strike at the American Steel & Wire Co.'s Cuyahoga works in Cleveland ended last night when union steelworkers voted to resume war production and negotiate their differences.

Federal Conciliator Stephen Eddy said employes of the cold rolling and wire mills and the annealing department struck in protest against refusal of overtime pay to a worker absent two days to attend a funeral.

At Columbus, a three-day work stoppage in heat treating departments of the Timken Roller Bearing Co. plant ended last night after union steelworkers voted to accept an agreement with the company on work schedules.

William Spartley, steelworkers' field representative who announced the agreement, declined to disclose its terms. He said the walkout was in protest against work schedules and estimated 200 men were involved. Company officials have declined comment.

convenience of war mothers, the bomber committee explained it may be used by anyone caring to purchase a war bond.

C. E. Danner, drive chairman, explained that the campaign was not set up on a "house-to-house" solicitation basis, and consequently many Marion county residents probably will not be asked individually by drive workers to buy a bond this month. Anyone not yet contacted by a worker may use the blank to make purchases this month to be credited to the bomber.

"Buy a Bomber" Sales Yesterday $14,231

Marion county's "buy a bomber" fund total grew to $150,000 today when sales totaling $14,231.25 were reported yesterday at the campaign headquarters in the Chamber of Commerce office.

This gave the drive workers 46 per cent of the $325,000 they need by the end of the month. With 46 per cent of the goal raised and 46 per cent of the month elapsed, leaders pointed out the drive was "holding its own" but that unless the daily rate of purchases were stepped up, the drive might go over only by a narrow margin.

Marion factories visited yesterday by Frank Pauly of Cleveland, national war bond speaker, and Harold J. Grigsby, heading the payroll savings drive in the county, stopped work for half-hour periods, rallied their employes and provided platforms and public address systems to help enlist the support of thousands of factory workers in the bomber campaign.

The round-trip flight of more than 1,000 miles to Kiel left targets there a mass of flames and smoke.

American announced losses in the day's operations were 11 bombers and four fighters.

The German radio in a broadcast recorded by The Associated Press said that 10 planes were shot down during the attack on Kiel and a total of 30 were downed yesterday.

Enemy losses were not announced, but one report said a formation of U. S. bombers destroyed "a considerable number of fighters."

(The OWI credited to the Swedish newspaper Arbetaren today a report which said "German circles" admitted damage resulting from allied April raids was "most severe," and reduced the capacity of many German war industries "by more than one half."

(It cited the raid on the Skoda armament works in Czechoslovakia and said the works were "in ruins."

("The Skoda raid," it said, "is a grim reminder of what may happen any day to Germany's other so-called 'secure' war plants in eastern Germany, Czechoslovakia, Austria or any other country."

Bey of Tunis Deposed by General Giraud

LONDON, May 15 — The Algiers radio said today Gen. Henri Giraud has deposed the bey of Tunis for endangering the security of Tunis. It said a successor had been appointed but did not name him.

The bey, Sidi Mohammed Al Mounsaf, had been elevated to "king" by the Germans in return for his collaboration during the German-Italian occupation.

Another Troop Convoy Reaches England Safely

LONDON, May 15 — Another convoy of United States troops reached a British port recently without loss, it was disclosed today.

Figures may not be published, but it was indicated reliably the number was not large. The force included a few WAACs.

FORTRESSES BLAST PORT NEAR ROME

By The Associated Press

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, May 15—Flying Fortresses made a heavy attack yesterday on the Italian port of Civitavecchia, 40 miles northwest of Rome, scoring direct hits on several ships in the harbor and on fuel storages and causing an ammunition dump to explode, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's headquarters announced today.

A simultaneous attack by medium bombers on the Sardinian port of Olbia resulted in three ships being sunk and others, including a large tanker, being severely damaged, the communique said. Hits also were scored on the docks and the industrial area of the port.

At the same time fighter-bombers swept over the northern part of Sardinia, bombing and strafing the airfield and port of Alghero and the harbor of Porto Tobres and vital points on the railroad.

HOUSE AND SENATE TAX BILLS COMPARED

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 15—These are the main differences between the senate and house pay-as-you-go tax bills:

Abatement—senate bill eliminates the lesser of 1942 or 1943 tax liabilities for all persons except those with "windfall" incomes. House bill cancels the 6 per cent normal and 13 per cent first bracket surtax on incomes, with higher bracket taxpayers carrying the remainder over for payment next year as they do now.

Windfalls — senate bill establishes a "normal" tax year—the highest income, plus $10,000, received in 1938, 1939 or 1940—and compares it with the abated year's tax, the taxpayer paying the difference in four installments. House bill has no windfall provision.

Withholding—senate bill begins withholding tax of 20 per cent July 1 on amounts of wages and salaries above basic exemption of $012 yearly ($12 weekly) for single persons, $1,248 for married, plus $312 for each dependent. House bill puts exemptions at $852 yearly for single, $1,320 for married, plus $408 for each dependent.

Military personnel—senate bill excludes from income tax first $1,500 of basic government pay, making exemptions $2,000 for single person, $2,700 for married, plus $350 for each dependent. House bill sets flat exclusion of $3,500 for single or married.

OHIO BLACKOUT COMING SOON

Stone Reports Statewide Test To Be Held Sometime Next Month.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., May 15 — Ohio's first complete blackout is scheduled tentatively for next month.

State Defense Director Ralph H. Stone announced today the test would be held in June "if possible." It will be preceded by blackouts covering 53 counties in the next two weeks and 26 southern and central Ohio counties within a month, he added. The state's remaining nine counties staged a test this week.

Stone said every effort would be made to shroud the state "so completely that not a single light will show unless it is decided to exempt war industries from the test." He added that preliminary plans for the 88-county blackout call for requiring industries to show their ability to hide operations behind blackout curtains.

Hope To Be Ready Soon

"We'll do our best to ready civilian defense organizations throughout Ohio for the test sometime late next month, but if they are not all completely ready there will be a short delay," Stone declared.

When such a test is conducted, the army will notify the state warning center in Columbus that planes are approaching. The warning center will flash the alarm to 10 district stations which will notify the 88 county centers.

The county control offices then will signal cities and towns in their areas and the state's 265,000 trained defense workers "will be alerted within a few minutes after the first plane is reported sighted," Stone declared.

The signal plunging Ohio into darkness would come only minutes later.

Six district blackouts embracing 53 counties are scheduled. Those affecting counties in the Marion area follow:

District No. 2, Wednesday, May 19; Sandusky, Seneca, Crawford, Erie, Ottawa (eastern half), Huron, Richland and Ashland counties. Sandusky, Mansfield and Ashland plants will blackout.

District No. 4, Monday, May 24; Van Wert, Mercer, Putnam, Allen, Auglaize, Hancock, Hardin and Wyandot counties. Findlay and Fostoria plants will blackout.

District No. 5, Thursday, May 27; Darke, Preble, Shelby, Miami, Montgomery, Logan, Champaign, Clark, Greene and Union counties. Dayton plants will blackout.

ITALIANS TOLD NAVY CAN'T STOP INVASION

By The Associated Press

LONDON, May 15 — The uneasy Italians have been told bluntly by one of their leaders that the Italian navy can not prevent an invasion of their land.

The admission was reported by the Rome radio in a broadcast recorded by the British ministry of information today.

The Rome announcer said the secretaries of war, aviation and the navy spoke at a six-hour emergency session of the Italian senate where the naval secretary said flatly his ships could not halt invaders.

Harding Defeats Delaware 11-2; Goes To Semi-Finals

Mulvaine Allows Willis Team Only Three Hits.

An unpredictable Harding High baseball team fought its way to today's semi-finals in the Central District tournament in Columbus by downing Delaware Willis 11 to 2 on diamond No. 3 at Ohio State university yesterday afternoon.

Dick Mulvaine, of Prexy cage fame, pitched good and smart baseball as he allowed the Delaware nine only three hits, all singles. First Baseman Chuck Fazio led Harding at bat with a single and a long triple out of three trips. Aside from the performances of these two Marion boys, no player on either side proved outstanding in the score book. However, Coach Vic Dorris commented after the game that the Harding nine functioned smoothly, playing heads-up, cooperative baseball throughout the entire seven innings. Prexy base running was particularly effective with 10 sacks stolen by alert and speedy Harding runners. A great factor in Harding's one-sided victory was loose defensive play on the part of Willis. A total of 11 errors was committed by Delaware horsehiders.

Now in Semi-Finals

Yesterday's win advanced Harding to the semi-final round of the tourney. Today they are playing a highly touted Bexley nine on diamond No. 2 at Ohio State. The contest was scheduled for 2 p. m. Bexley trounced Columbus West in its quarter-final tilt yesterday.

Big Prexy inning was the second in which six Harding runs were registered. Eight of Delaware's 11 miscues were made in this stanza, thereby bringing about directly or indirectly all of Harding's tallies in the second inning. Fazio's tremendous triple came in this canto. This drive carried far over the left fielder's head and judging comparative distances, Fazio's three bagger probably would have gone over Lincoln park's left field fence. As if the distance itself were not enough, big Charlie also had to contend with a stiff wind at the plate.

Goes To Third

"Boots" Mulvaine did not restrict his diamond accomplishments yesterday to just the pitching mound. In the wild President half of the second, Mulvaine had reached first on an error by Willis hurler Clark Elliott. Not content with the mere initial sack, Mulvaine stretched his long legs and galloped around to third while the Delaware catcher held the ball in his mitt in the course of a discussion with the umpire.

Yesterday's tourney game marked the fifth game of the week for the busy Harding squad. Monday, the Red and Black split a twin bill with Galion and on Wednesday closed their regular season with a loss to Cardington. However, Dorris's proteges surprised Columbus East with an 8 to 5 upset in a first round tournament contest Thursday.

The Delaware team is coached by Art Curtis, vocational teacher in the high school and a brother of A. W. "Bert" Curtis of 625 South Prospect street in Marion.

BLUES OUTFIELDER LEADS AA BATTERS

Al Lyons Chalks Up Mark of .481.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, May 15 — Kansas City was able to play only two games in the week ending Thursday but the Blues' rookie outfielder, Al Lyons, made good use of his limited opportunities to grab the American association hitting leadership.

Lyons made four hits in seven times to bat to soar his average to a dizzy .481 and give the other association marksmen a high goal at which to shoot. Hugh Holliday of Louisville owned a .455 mark and Steve Barath of Louisville had an even .400. Averages included games up to Thursday.

Ted Norbert of Milwaukee, who shared the leadership a week ago with Jake Powell of St. Paul, dropped to fourth place with a .385, with Herschel Martin of Milwaukee fifth at .382.

The pitching records showed 16 hurlers who have won without suffering a loss, but only two had compiled three triumphs—Otey Clarke of Minneapolis and Johnny Whitehead of Toledo. Six pitchers had 2 and 0 marks. The top strikeout king was Vallie Eaves of Minneapolis who has fanned 16 batters.

Tribe Game and Half Behind As Senators Hand Them 3 to 1 Defeat.

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, May 15 — One and one-half games separate the Cleveland Indians and the first-place New York Yankees today, but it could have been a slimmer margin had the tribe clung to an eighth inning 1 to 0 lead in the series final with the Washington Nationals.

While the Yankees were losing to Chicago yesterday, the Tribe's Jim Bagby was well on the way to his fourth victory, but the easterners tied the count in the ninth and added two more runs to win 3 to 1.

Bagby had granted five hits until the fatal ninth when a pass to Bob Johnson started the Washington scoring spree. Gerald Priddy singled through a spot vacated by Ray Mack's dash to cover second, Johnson moving to third. Oris Hockett's throw got away from Ken Keltner and Priddy advanced to second.

Manager Lou Boudreau ordered a base on balls for pinch hitter Gene Moore, filling the sacks. But the Tribe pilot's plans went awry as catcher Jake Early singled to right, scoring Johnson and Priddy. Johnny Sullivan singled to bring in Moore and finish Bagby. Mike Naymick took over and stopped the Nats.

The contest was a pitching duel between Bagby and Emil (Dutch) Leonard until the eighth inning. The Washington hurler worked the full game and granted nine hits while Bagby gave up eight.

The Philadelphia Athletics make their debut here today in a three-game series with a double header scheduled for Sunday. Jack Salveson is slated for mound duty in the opener against Rookie Orrie Arntzen for the A's.

Reds in Boston for Trio with Braves

BOSTON, May 15—The Cincinnati Reds arrived today for the first of three games with the Boston Braves.

Johnny Vander Meer, Reds' ace left-hander who has four wins against one defeat this season, will be on the mound for Cincinnati while Jim Tobin will pitch for the Braves.

Thus far the Reds' eastern junket has not produced anything to delight the hearts of the faithful in Cincinnati.

A three-game tussle with the Philadelphia Nationals was whittled to two games, played as a tilday doubleheader, because of Friday doubleheader. On that day the Reds broke even, dropping a 2 to 1 heartbreaker in the first and walking off with the second, 3 to 1.

Manager Bill McKechnie has several problems causing him deep concern. One of these is the inability of his pitchers to go the route. In the last six games not a starting pitcher completed his assignment. Bucky Walters was the last to do the trick when he defeated the Pittsburgh Pirates, 3 to 2, May 5.

Another is the failure of right-fielder Max Marshall to live up to expectations at the plate. Benched in favor of 40-year-old Estel Crabtree, Marshall has produced a weak .203 batting average. Last year he hit .350 in 17 games.

Sunday the Reds are scheduled for a double header against the Braves with Bucky Walters and Clyde Shoun the probable starters.

Eligibility Rules Up To Industrial School

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, May 15 — Representatives of Ohio conference colleges today left decisions on eligibility of students for sports competition to each school.

In discarding eligibility rules, however, conference representatives meeting her designated Commissioner George Daniel of Lorain, to rule in case of controversies. Daniel was elected to a 16th term.

Coaches and athletic directors representing 17 colleges approved the confetence executive committee's action last month permitting naval and transfer students to become eligible for sports competition and eliminating the one-year residence requirement.

The arbitrary date of Sept. 10 for starting football practice was abandoned.

Physical Education Program To Be Presented at Stadium

Harding Pupils To Stage Demonstration Thursday at 8 P. M. Under Direction of Gymnasium Instructors.

Harding High school's mass physical education demonstration will be presented at the Harding stadium next Thursday at 8 p. m. under the direction of Miss Florence Coover and Vic Dorris, Harding girls' and boys' physical department directors respectively.

Both instructors have issued several hundred tickets to Harding boys and girls to sell to their parents or any other Marion citizens. Ducats may be obtained from any Harding pupil taking physical education. However, tickets also will be on sale at the gate Thursday night.

This demonstration will give a bird's eye view of Harding's physical education program this year, which being a war year has naturally stepped up athletic activities. In most of the activities in the demonstration, either all boys or all girls will participate. However, in such features as the grand march and the La Conga mixed groups will necessarily take part.

Demonstration events will vary just as this year's physical ed. program at Harding has. Such extreme in physical training as dancing and boxing will be given. Other events will include group games, relays, mass calesthenics, tumbling, group balancing and pyramids, boxing, military marching and statuary of youth.

A recently added feature of the novel mass demonstration will be a military obstacle course similar to the ones used in Army, Navy and Marine camps the country over. These courses are extremely difficult and trying but aid greatly in building up the stamina and general bodily condition of America's youth. Harding boys, who volunteered their services during the last period of school, have been helping Dorris in the construction of the course. Already most of the sections and hazards of the grind have been completed and undoubtedly will be in ship shape for the big show Thursday.

DYKES' OLD CAST-OFF PITCHER PAYS WAY WITH YANK SHUTOUT

Buck Ross First To Whitewash League Leaders This Season.

By SID FEDER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Old James Joseph Dykes must sit back in his rocking chair out there in the White Sox ball park every once in a while, take an extra-long pull on that big black cigar, and get to thinking about how funny the dice can roll sometimes.

Now, this is not to point out that James Joseph is a crap-shooter. As a matter of fact, aside from baseball, bowling is his game.

James Joseph thinks Connie Mack is just about the greatest baseball brain ever to come down the pike; yet, every so often, he picks up some player Mr. McGillicuddy has cast off from his Athletics—and the cast-off usually becomes as hot as a Garand rifle in Tunisia for the Dykes Chicago circus.

Two years ago, the Sox picked up Lee (Buck) Ross, a strong-armed right-hander out of Norwood, N. C., who has never been good enough even to make baseball's annual "Who's Who." He went under the collective wing of Dykes and his crack coach, Muddy Ruel, and yesterday he paid off. Thrown in against the New York Yankees, most famous of all hitting circuses, Buck limited them to one measly, scratch single of the "fluke" variety as he twirled the Sox to a 3-0 decision.

This was the first whitewash job painted on the Yanks this year and was the standout stunt of a day which also saw likeable Freddy Fitzsimmons, fat and 41, fail in his first pitching job in a year, and four of the afternoon's six games decided in the final inning, two of them in overtime. Two tussles were postponed because of weather conditions.

Fitzsimmons went less than four innings and was the losing pitcher as the Pittsburgh Pirates pounded the Brooklyn Dodgers 5-2.

The New York Giants put on their second-straight ninth inning rally to knock off the Chicago Cubs. Sid Gordon singled in the clincher with the bases loaded in the finals for a 3-2 decision.

The other last-inning sprees saw the Washington Senators shove three runs across in the ninth to take the Cleveland Indians 3-1, Pete Suder put on the squeeze play for the deciding marker as the Athletics nipped the Detroit Tigers 7-6 in 11 frames and rookie Charlie Workman, up from Nashville, whacking a single with the bags loaded in the tenth to give the Boston Braves a 4-3 edge over the St. Louis Cardinals.

Phelps Sees Phillies Beat Reds, Signs Up

By The Associated Press

PHILADELPHIA, May 15.—The Phillies, up in the dizzy (for them) heights of the National league's first division, had a new reason today to hope they might stay there — Ernest Gordon (Babe) Phelps.

The slugging catcher, suspended after failing to report to the Pittsburgh Pirates, was signed Thursday after he had watched the Phillies beat the Cincinnati Reds 2 to 1 in the first game of a doubleheader. The purchase price was not disclosed.

Hutchings Helps Put Indians in First Place

By The Associated Press

Manager Ownie Bush's Indianapolis Indians, and Pitcher Johnny Hutchings in particular, are an exceptionally hot item in the American association these days, and are alone in first place as the result of a three-game winning streak.

Hutchings, a 1 to 0 victor over Columbus in his only other decision appearance this season, held Kansas City to three hits last night as the Tribe won, 5 to 3.

The game was the only one scheduled last night.

Marion Softball Season Set To Open at Lincoln Monday

Coca-Cola and Cooler Teams To Play in Curtain Raiser; Harding Pupils To Give Demonstration.

Marion's 1943 softball season soon will undergo its official baptizing at Lincoln park Monday at 6:30 p. m. in an Industrial league game between Coca-Cola and Universal Cooler.

Coca-Cola copped the Commercial loop title last year and the Cooler outfit finished near the top in the 1942 Industrial league. Softball commissioners expect a close battle between two of this year's top flight teams.

Preceding the play ball cry of the umpire at 6:30, City Recreation Director Vic Dorris will present some of his Harding High school boys of the physical education department in several stunts. This added attraction is scheduled to get underway at 6 o'clock. Dorris plans to have about a 15 minute program of acrobatics and gymnastics.

Monday's opening tilt will be free to the public as will all other softball city league games throughout the summer. Mayor Russell Snare may be on hand to toss out the first ball of the season in true big league style.

Although Coca-Cola and the Cooler are playing on Monday night, Sunday School loop teams will have that night as their regular playing time starting May 24. Industrial league squads will play on Tuesday and Thursday nights with two contests scheduled for each time. The Industrial and Sabbath leagues will be the only loops participating in organized city softball this summer. Four teams will comprise the usually well represented church loop while eight concerns have entered teams in the Industrial organization.

Snatches of Sports

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, May 15—This is a queer town. The intercollegiate A.A.A.A. track meet today figures to draw only about 4,000 customers because it's being held on Randall island—just a five-minute bus ride from the subway...The same athletes pulled more than 10,000 into the Garden for the indoor championships and it was called a "disappointing" gate.

* * *

Reformed Characters — Headline: "Dodger Fans Eager For Cards at Twilight"...But not for high stakes, of course, Mr. Rickey.

One-Minute Sports Page—Lightweight Allie Stolz has been given a medical discharge from the Coast Guard...and his manager always claimed that Allie's various ailments were purely "menthol."...Only three of the Chicago Cubs who won the National league championships in 1938 still are with the club. They're Stan Hack, Bill Lee and Phil Cavarretta.

Today's Guest Star—Jesse Linthicum, Baltimore Sun: "Chalky Wright, pound for pound, is one of the greatest fighters to come along in this generation. Some wiseacre may crack that he doesn't belong to this generation."

Service Dept. — Sgt. Sam West, former Chicago White Sox outfielder, fulfilled a ball player's ambition when he joined the Army. He's back in his home town managing the ball club—the Lubbock Army Air field team...Pvt. Artie Dorrell, who was one of the better welterweights when he joined the Army, reports that boxing is taboo for the boys who are learning to be fliers at the University of Arkansas — too much chances of broken bones or eye injuries...But, Artie adds, "they're keeping me busy with algebra, geometry, trigonometry, physics and the roughest course in geography I've ever seen."

DON MEADE THROUGH

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, May 15 — Don Meade is through as a jockey, at least for 1943. The little South Dakota saddle artist, who has been in and out of "hot water" around the race track for years, was denied his appeal for a riding license yesterday by the state racing commission. He was charged with "collusion" in a race.

Big Ten Clears Deck for Football Program

By The Associated Press

EVANSTON, Ill., May 15 — The Big Ten cleared the decks today for a full-fledged football program next fall by arguing out a few matters regarding the start of practice and pre-school use of freshmen.

All schools announced nearly complete schedules for next fall yesterday, including a bevy of games with three big midwest military establishments.

The Ohio State schedule follows:

Sept. 25 — Iowa Seahawks at Iowa State; Oct. 2—Missouri at Columbus; Oct. 9—at Great Lakes; Oct. 16—Purdue at Columbus; Oct. 23—Northwestern at Columbus; Oct. 30 — Indiana at Columbus; Nov. 6—at Pittsburgh; Nov. 13 — Illinois at Columbus; Nov. 20 — at Michigan.

COURSE FOR COACHES

By The Associated Press

OXFORD, O., May 15 — A "refresher" course in football, basketball, baseball and track for high school coaches will be held at Miami university June 7 to June 19. Track Coach George L. Rider said the school of education was offering the instruction as a wartime emergency because so many coaches have entered military service.

"The More the Merrier" on Palace Bill Four Days

... and Joel McCrea Co-starred in Comedy with Washington, D. C., Setting.

... the More Merrier" co-... and Joel Mc... day and plays ... day at the Palace ...

... comedy tells the ... Washington ... to do her ... the house... in the capital by ... room. Deter... only a woman to share her small apartment, Jean Arthur, as the secretary, finally gives in to Charles Coburn's arguments and permits him to rent the room—for one week only!

Afraid that things won't work out, Jean's worst fears are realized when Coburn promptly sublets half of his room to Joel McCrea, an engineer in Washington on business. Thus forced to share her kitchen and bath with two strange men, Jean goes through a madcap series of hectic and hilarious moments.

The climax is reached when the FBI steps into the picture after McCrea has been spotted looking out of one of the windows with binoculars. Their investigation results in publicity and Jean's situation is made clear to her fiancee who doubts her patriotic gesture. The situation smooths itself out with the help of Coburn.

"Frankenstein Meets The Wolf Man" with Bela Lugosi, Lon Chaney, Ilona Massey and Patric Knowles will start Thursday at the Palace and continue through Saturday.

Two of the screen's most fearsome horror men combine their wickedness to provide a double measure of chills and thrills. The picture continues the life of the famous monster and this time, the fiend is assisted by another frightening creation, the Wolf Man.

Miss Massey has the role of Baroness Elsa Frankenstein, who lives under the shadow of the Frankenstein tradition. Knowles appears as Dr. Mannering, who follows the mysterious Wolf Man from one crime to another until the trail leads to the Frankenstein and the monster.

Bela Lugosi is seen as the monster with Lon Chaney as the Wolf Man.

The story picks up the careers of the monsters from the mysterious means by which they apparently perished in their previous movies.

A SCENE FROM "THE MORE THE MERRIER," which will start Sunday at the Palace theater, shows that whether Jean Arthur is under the glow of candle light or klieg lights she is one of Hollywood's loveliest stars.

NEXT WEEK IN THE THEATERS

Palace—Sunday through Wednesday, "The More the Merrier," starring Jean Arthur, Joel McCrea and Charles Coburn.

Thursday through Saturday, "Frankenstein Meets the Wolf Man," starring Ilona Massey, Patric Knowles, Bela Lugosi and Lon Chaney.

Ohio—Now playing through Monday, "Desert Victory."

Starting Friday and continuing 10 days, "Crash Dive" with Tyrone Power and Anne Baxter.

Marion—Starting at the midnight show and continuing Monday, "Somewhere I'll Find You," starring Clark Gable and Lana Turner and "Strictly in the Groove," starring Leon Errol and Ozzie Nelson and his orchestra.

Tuesday and Wednesday, William Powell and Hedy Lamarr in "Crossroads" and Ralph Bellamy and Evelyn Ankers in "The Great Impersonation."

Thursday through Saturday, "Fighting Frontier" with Tim Holt and "Madame Spy" starring Constance Bennett and John Litel.

State—"Stagecoach Buckaroo," with Johnny Mack Brown, "Here We Go Again," starring Fibber McGee, Edgar Bergen and Charlie McCarthy.

Tuesday and Wednesday, "House of Errors" with Harry Langdon and Charles Rogers and "You Can't Escape Forever," starring George Brent and Brenda Marshall.

Thursday through Saturday, "Texas Trouble Shooters," with the Range Busters and "Top Sergeant," with Don Terry and Leo Carrillo.

Repairs of tank cars in the eastern fuel-carrying service cut into oil deliveries in 1942 by less than one-tenth of one per cent.

Africa War Film at Ohio

"Desert Victory" Is Story of British Smash at Rommel's Afrika Korps.

Now playing and continuing through Monday at the Ohio Theater is "Desert Victory". Production of this war film was begun back in the tension-filled days when the British had been driven back into Egypt, within 60 miles of Alexandria, by Rommel's Afrika Korps and the Italian Legions.

The film opens with an explanation of the tactical problem at that time: the problem of digging in and holding — a "must" if the Suez Canal and the entire Middle East were not to fall to the Axis. Then, in August, came Churchill's order to General Alexander, commander-in-chief of that war theater.

Following months of preparation, the Eighth Army, under General Montgomery, on the night of Oct. 23, opened its all-out offensive against the enemy. "Desert Victory" is the story of that battle — the battle which helped turn the tide of war.

The picture also features official German Army scenes, which were captured by the British.

Showing on the same bill with "Desert Victory" is Sonja Henie in "Everything Happens at Night".

Starting Tuesday and continuing for 10 days is "Crash Dive" with Tyrone Power and Ann Baxter. This picture is the first to come out of the present war dealing with the gallant men who man Uncle Sam's submarines, and the heroic and daring fight they are carrying out in far flung combat waters.

Tyrone Power is seen in the role of a young sub officer, who leads his men on a daring landing to destroy a secret enemy base. Dana Andrews plays the part of the sub's senior officer while the romantic interest is handled by Miss Ann Baxter.

The picture is authentic and shows the conditions aboard a submarine in wartime. Most of the scenes were filmed at the naval submarine base at New London, Conn., and are in technicolor.

War Drama Comes Here

"Somewhere I'll Find You" starring Clark Gable and Lana Turner and "Strictly in the Groove" starring Leon Errol, Grace McDonald and Ozzie Nelson and his orchestra will start at the Marion theater with a midnight show Saturday and continue through Monday.

In this drama of war correspondents Gable and Sterling are brothers in love with Miss Turner. The rivalry is interupted by the bombing of Pearl Harbor. The girl disappears and the brothers go after her, finding her fighting jungle and Japs to transport Chinese children to safety.

"Strictly in the Groove" has as its theme romance, jive and dude ranch life.

William Powell and Hedy Lamarr in "Crossroads" and "The Great Impersonation" starring Ralph Bellamy and Evelyn Ankers will play Tuesday and Wednesday. "Crossroads" is the story of a man's past looming as a threat to his happy present and future. "The Great Impersonation" is an imaginative story dealing with double identity. Bellamy appears as a lazy aristocrat and as a brutal enemy agent.

"Fighting Frontier" with Tim Holt, "Ukelele Ike" Edwards and Ann Summers will start Thursday and continue through Saturday. It is an action story of the adventures of an under-cover agent who poses as a bandit to unmask the real crooks. Also playing is "Madame Spy" with Constance Bennett, and John Litel, an adventure story of modern espionage with Miss Bennett as the undercover agent and Don Porter as a famous newspaper man.

The above scene from "Desert Victory", now showing at the Ohio Theater, represents a concentrated barrage laid down at one point during the African attack on Rommel. Tracer bullets fill the sky.

Radio Stars In Cast of Comedy at State Theater

"Here We Go Again" starring Fibber McGee, Edgar Bergen and Charlie McCarthy will play Sunday and Monday at the State theater. Also playing is "Stagecoach Buckaroo" with Johnny Mack Brown.

Trouble begins when Fibber, desperately in need of money to pay his bill at the resort hotel, yields to the persuasions of a crooked promoter and helps sell stock to wealthy Bergen.

Playing Tuesday and Wednesday are "House of Errors" with Harry Langdon and Charles Rogers. On the same bill is "You Can't Escape Forever" starring Brenda Marshall and George Brent.

"Texas Trouble Shooters" with the Range Busters and "Top Sergeant" with Don Terry and Leo Carrillo will start Thursday and continue through Saturday.

The 1943 strawberry acreage in the three Pacific coast states is estimated at 17,000 acres, as against 23,120 in 1942. Inability to get pickers has discouraged growers.

STORES TO SPEED ISSUANCE OF CARDS

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., May 15—State Liquor Director Don Fisher said today retail liquor stores would open an hour earlier and stay open an hour longer during the next two weeks to expedite issuance of liquor ration cards.

Store hours in every city ex- cept Dayton will be open 11 a. m., to 9 p. m., eastern war time for the two-week period, the director said. Stores in Dayton, the only major city still on "slow" time, will be open from 11 to 9, eastern standard time.

Liquor ration cards will be is- sued alphabetically and claim- ants must call at the store where they filed application. Each per- son will be required to show his war ration book No. 2 in securing his liquor ration card.

Here is the schedule under which the cards will be issued:

Monday, May 17, persons whose last names begin with A and B; Tuesday, C and D; Wednesday, E, F and G; Thursday, H, I and J; Friday, K and L, and Saturday, all persons whose last names be- gin with A to L inclusive who were unable to pick up their cards on the designated day.

Monday, May 24, M and N; Tuesday, O, P, Q and R; Wednes- day, S; Thursday, T, U, V, W, X, Y and Z; Friday and Saturday, all persons entitled to cards during the first registration period who did not receive cards on one of the other days.

The liquor ration cards become effective June 1. In the meantime, sale of packaged liquor goods have been suspended.

NAVY APPROPRIATION BILL SENT TO HOUSE

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 15 — A $29,463,587,198 naval appropria- tions measure—largest in history —was sent to the house floor yes- terday with a message that "the country may have every con- fidence in the achievement of an unconditional victory across both oceans if the home front con- tinues to do its part."

The assurance came from the house appropriations committee as it made public a bulky transcript of testimony taken from the chiefs of the nation's sea-fighting forces, a report brimming with broad de- tails of smash-the-enemy, invas- ion preparations.

There was grim acknowledge- ment in it from the navy itself of the precedent-shattering size of the allocations for seawar for the fiscal year beginning July 1. From Admiral Ernest J. King, com- mander in chief of the United States fleet, came this assertion: "War inevitably results in waste —waste of men and materials and money; that is one reason for our hatred of war. But . . . we can not afford to pussyfoot when it comes to appropriating money to carry on."

Lansing, Mich., Bus Drivers Go on Strike

By The Associated Press

LANSING, Mich., May 15—Bus drivers in Michigan's capital city walked out today, depriving an area of nearly 100,000 residents of public transportation.

Thousands of war workers, left standing on street corners by an early morning walkout of em- ployes of the Intercity Coach Lines, were forced to thumb rides to their jobs.

The decision to strike, made at a meeting of Local 1039 of the Amalgamated Association of Street, Electric Railway and Motor Coach Employes (AFL), was reported to have been in consequence of fail- ure of the war labor board to act on a wage question, details of

BUYING SENDS PRICES HIGHER

Yesterday's Trend Toward Liquidation Reversed and Stocks Go Up.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, May 15 — Many who sold stocks Friday on the short-war theory reversed them- selves to some extent in today's market and recoveries were gen- eral throughout the list.

British official warnings that any idea of a quick finish to the world conflict was erroneous, and recognition that the roads to Rome, Berlin and Tokyo still were beset with numerous difficulties, did much to stem the peace liqui- dation which hit leaders in the previous session.

In relatively slow dealings price improvement appeared selectively at the start. There were a few advances of 1 to 5 points in evi- dence near the close. Transfers were around 600,000 shares.

Nickel Plate preferred was a stellar performer, getting up about 5 to a new 1943 top on moderate activity. The road's common stock also touched best levels for the year.

The return of the coal labor dispute to negotiation between the union and operators aided invest- ment and speculative sentiment to a certain degree. Bears still were plentiful in the financial sector, however.

Shares getting into the "new high" class included Flintkote, Dresser Mfg. and Panhandle Pro- ducing & Refining. Supported were Western Union, American & Foreign Power, Douglas Aircraft, American Can, U. S. Steel, Chrys- ler, Montgomery Ward and Ana- conda.

Occasional minus marks were posted for Eastman Kodak, Texas Co., Bethlehem, General Motors, Westinghouse, J. I. Case and Bal- timore & Ohio.

Strike of Printers Ends at Massillon

By The Associated Press

MASSILLON, O., May 15—Fif- teen printers agreed to return to their jobs at the Massillon Eve- ning Independent today, ending a nine-day strike which interrupted publication of this city's only daily newspaper.

Raymond R. Baker, president of the International Typographical Union local, announced the back- to-work agreement. E. A. Neut- zenhoiser, general manager of the Independent, said publication was being resumed and that the war labor board would attempt settle- ment of the dispute over wages and vacations with pay.

Baker said the union asked a 5 per cent pay increase, retroac- tive to Oct. 1, 1942, and a week's vacation with pay. He said union- ists rejected a company offer of a 5 per cent raise retroactive to last April 7. Salaries average $43.50 weekly, Baker reported.

JAPS LOSE HEAVILY IN PACIFIC AIR RAIDS

By The Associated Press

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA, May 15 — Japan has paid the staggering price of 125 planes shot down or badly damaged out of slightly more than 300 risked in large scale raids in the southwest Pacific since April 11.

On that date, the enemy air force opened an erratic outburst of mass attacks by sending 45 planes against Oro bay, New Guinea, losing 23. Yesterday 45 more planes attacked that same allied base 50 miles below Buna on the Papuan peninsula. To- day's communique reported 18 planes were shot down for cer- tain and six others probably de- stroyed.

The Japanese struck with 105 planes on April 12 at Port Mores- by, New Guinea, losing 37; sent upwards of 100 planes against Milne bay, New Guinea, on April 14, losing 30; and 51 planes against a Darwin, Australia, airdrome May 2, losing 13.

552 HELD ON DRAFT CHARGES BY FBI

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 15 — Special agents arrested 552 men in 19 cities yesterday on draft law charges, Director J. Edgar Hoover of the federal bureau of investigation announced today, in one of the busiest days in the bureau's history.

Hoover said "no mass raids or dragnet tactics were used," but that the arrests were "the results of painstaking investigations to locate individuals who had be- come delinquent with their local boards for various reasons, such as failure to report for physical examination and induction, failu- re to return questionnaires, not notifying their draft boards of changes of address, and other de- linquencies."

Hoover said 187 were arrested in New York City and 81 in San Francisco.

Figures reported for other cities included:

Detroit 37; Baltimore 33; Los Angeles 48; Cincinnati 22; New Orleans 25; Chicago 15; Boston 19, and Cleveland 7.

The FBI has inquired into more than 200,000 complaints under the selective service law, Hoover said, and has located and made avail- able to the armed forces 86,543 men. In addition, convictions have been obtained against 4,002 draft violators, and sentences aggregating 8,726 years in prison

Pitfalls of Love

By ADELE GARRISON

"THAT IS ALL I want to know," Ruth Hayes replied, and her raucous tones of venomous triumph came over the telephone wires so loudly that I had no difficulty in hearing every word the "wilderness woman" said to Katharine.

"You be at the Myers apartment, at the address I gave you, at two o'clock tomorrow morning," she reiterated in final obnoxious command, "and come alone."

To my gratification, Katharine did not give the satisfaction of a second affirmative reply, but hung up the receiver.

"Did you hear, Madge?" she asked. "She said she knew Jack was in Greenwich Village—"

I did not know my father at his age could move as rapidly as he now strode toward us.

"What's that?" he asked tensely. "Say that again!"

Katharine repeated the words.

Wants Exact Words

"Was that exactly what she said, or did she elaborate on it?"

"Those were her exact words," Katharine replied, and I nodded confirmation.

"You heard her also — every word?" he asked me.

"Yes, every word," I told him, and he relaxed perceptibly.

"She is making a very clever guess and bluff," he said. "It is common gossip among our antagonists that I have headquarters somewhere in the Village, but just where they have not been able to determine. Those who know of Jack's relationship to us would of course deduce that he might—notice, I say only 'might'—come to me for sanctuary, but I am sure Ruth Hayes knows nothing definitely. However, we cannot afford to take any chances. But first, sit down please, both of you."

He placed chairs for us, then sat down himself. After a pause of several seconds, while he sat looking straight ahead and with the fingers of his right hand on the arm of his chair, he spoke apologetically to Katharine.

"Margaret tells me she heard every word of the conversation," he began. "You know her photographic memory, and will understand that is why I am asking her, instead of you, to repeat that conversation to me."

"Of course, Chief," Katharine said with an affectionate smile, emphasizing the title slightly, and he smiled back.

"Thank you," he said, then turned to me.

"Now, Daughter," he said, "will you please repeat every word of that conversation, just as you heard it?"

I had been marshaling my memory and began speaking as soon as the words were out of his mouth. He listened quietly, then resumed his finger tapping.

Accepts Risk for Jack

Katharine and I knew he was planning something drastic, and I wondered if she surmised, as I did, that we both were to be involved in whatever campaign he was planning. And soon I caught my breath as I realized that my surmise was correct.

"Katharine," he said, with infinite kindness in his voice, "I am going to ask you to face danger tonight for Jack's sake. I know the question is unnecessary, but I must put it nevertheless—are you willing to do what I must ask of you?"

The Stars Say—

For Sunday, May 16

SUNDAY'S horoscope augurs very lively, pleasant and profitable conditions with all the affairs of interest to the young as well as for the more serious. Church and ecclesiastics should also flourish. It is auspicious for dealing with superiors or community matters.

Those whose birthday it is are particularly fortified for attaining secure and stable conditions for all new as well as old and static propositions. Possessions should increase and labor, serious work of any line, prosper. All pertaining to youth as well as intellectual, cultural and professional matters should be decisively promoted, with vigor and assurance.

A child born on this day may have creative ability of a high type, in art, or other cultural form.

For Monday, May 17

MONDAY'S astrological forecast is for lively and aggressive conditions, but these may be beset by difficult, stubborn and disintegrating circumstances. It may be irksome to remedy these, but hammering and pegging away may not effect as much as ingenuity. Diplomacy and tact should assist. Sign papers carefully.

Those whose birthday it is may have an active and busy year, in which certain tenacious and static situations as well as sudden and disruptive forces must be overcome by decisive attack or swift grasp of peculiar circumstances. All should be done with care.

A child born on this day may be talented and ingenious, with some subtleness and shrewdness, but may incline to extravagance.

YOUR HEALTH

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

Hay or "Rose" Fever

HAY FEVER sufferers are grouped into the spring season and the fall season for their periods of martyrdom. A few unfortunates have attacks in both seasons. The spring season may range from very early spring to early summer. How hay fever got its name is an obscure point in etymology, but probably because it appears either in the hay-ripening season or the hay-harvesting season. At any rate the name was in general use in 1819 when Bostock gave the first clear description of it.

It was described by Dunbar as a disease of civilization, but we have mention of cases in the medical literature of antiquity. Galen describes a boy who had a cold whenever he smelled roses.

The spring type was long called rose fever, but roses have nothing to do with it. Roses are in bloom, it so happens, when the grasses pollinate. The grasses and trees are the real culprits, but the drab, uncolored flowers of the grasses go unnoticed beside the glory of the roses, and the victim who knows his snuffles have something to do with plants in season naturally hangs the blame on the most conspicuous bloom in sight.

The three grasses that are the most frequent causes of spring hay fever are blue grass ,timothy and Bermuda grass.

Blue grass, or June grass, or meadow grass, sows its pollen in late May and early June. The flowers are inconspicuous, as are all the flowers of plants which depend on wind pollination. The little spears that look like seedlings, and eventually turn into seedlings, if the stalk is shaken during early June can be seen to give off a shower of dust, which is really a myriad of pollen grains.

Timothy, the most important hay grass in the United States, pollinates in late June and early July.

Bermuda grass grows best in our southern states and pollinates for a long period, in some localities from April to September. But in the northern section of the south, it pollinates at about the same time as blue grass.

Trees also cause hay fever in some people; elm, hazel, alder, maple, beech, ash and oak may all be offenders to some innocent persons. The trees pollinate earlier than the grasses—some trees in the south as early as February.

Spring hay fever does not affect as many people as fall hay fever, but it covers more geographic territory. I believe the preventive treatment with vaccines gives more good results than the similar treatment for fall hay fever. So a word to the victim is: If you want to get relief this season, begin now.

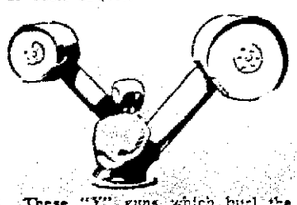
Depth Bomb equipment is vital for our cruisers, destroyers and other war ships, including the Motor torpedo boats. Depth charges are most effective in combating the Nazi submarine menace. Equipment for dropping depth bombs for a destroyer costs $16,000.



These "Y" guns which hurl the 300 pound depth bombs overboard are vital and essential to our Navy. Your War Bond purchases help pay for them. Let's not let the Navy down. Give our Boys the protection and the equipment necessary for that protection. "They give their lives—You lend your money."
